Interest In Local Race Could Boost Primary Turnout

By John P. Sawyer

A "better than usual" voter turnout is expected for this Tuesday's state primary when Andover residents help choose which candidates will square off in November for the governorship and lieutenant governorship, senator from the second Essex and Middlesex district (town precincts 1-5), and perhaps of most local interest, who will be nominated to run for Rep. Gerald Cohen's empty seat in the House.

Town Clerk Elden R. Salter said, "There is never a rush to break down the door" to vote in the primary. A 30-35 percent turnout is normal. But he expects a "better than usual" voter turnout Tuesday with perhaps 35-40 percent of Andover's 15,843 registered voters coming to the polls. (The town has 5,423 registered Democrats, 3,644 Republicans and 6,776 independents).

Salter attributes increased voter interest this year to the seven-way Democratic and two-way Republican contests. The party nominees will campaign along with Independent Richard J. Bowen for the district representation of Andover, Tower Hill and South Lawrence in the November final election. Cohen, who serves as chairman of the House Committee on Taxation, decided not to run for re-election.

Also of local interest is the Democratic race which pits incumbent Sen. Patricia McGovern (Second Essex and Middlesex) against challengers Michael J. Kennedy of Lawrence and former state representative and senator William X. Wall, who was defeated by McGovern last time around. There is no candidate in the Republican primary.

Other contested offices on the ballot include county commissioner, Terrence M. Breen of Methuen and Warren F. White Jr. of Lynn are challenging incumbent Edward H. Cahill on the Democratic side. Republi-

Traffic Pattern For Voting

Andover voters will cast their ballots in Tuesday's state primary at Dunn Gymnasium, Andover High School.

Town Clerk Elden R. Salter notes traffic will enter one-way from Shawsheen Road and exit by Moraine Street or onto Shawsheen Road around West Junior High School.

Voting hours will be 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Salter says enrolled independents have a choice of ballots, either Democrat or Republican. Those registered as Democrat or Republican will receive the appropriate ballot. Voters cannot change party affiliation. Tuesday, Aug. 17 was the last day for changing in time for the primary.

When you vote Tuesday, you become enrolled in the party you have selected. Cards will be available at the polls to allow you to change party affiliation back to independent if you choose.

Painful Parting

A summer of fun, of romping through fields, chasing sticks and playing ball ends all too soon with a return to school today compelling Glenn Wilson of Hidden Road to head for the first grade at South School and Princess to resort to self-amusement to while away the hours of the day until next June.

One-Day Licenses Granted

During a regular meeting at Town Hall Tuesday night, the Board of Selectmen approved one-day all-alcoholic licenses for the Christian Formation Center, River Road, for several dates: 6 p.m. to midnight Sept. 30; 6:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. Oct. 2; 5 to 10 p.m. Oct. 10; noon to 10 p.m. Oct. 16; 5 to 10 p.m. Oct. 28; 6:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. Oct. 30; and 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. Oct. 30.

The selectmen handled a light agenda during the one-hour meeting; they are scheduled to meet next on Monday, Sept. 20.

A Time For Parties And Races

A neighborhood block party, a soap box derby-style race, a road race and a bicycle race are among the Andover events scheduled for the next several weeks.

The selectmen Tuesday night approved a request to block off Rock O'Dundee Road from noon to 9 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 11 (with a Sunday rain date) for a block party.

They also approved the closing of School Street, between Central Street and Lupine Road, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Sept. 18 for Community Service's annual Andy 500 race (postponed from July 24), with a rain date of Sept. 25.

With the selectmen's approval, Lovejoy Road will be closed from 12:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 17, for the seventh annual DCS road race.

And the board approved plans for the seventh annual DCS bicycle race, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 2, with a rain date of Oct. 3. The race route will be over High Plain Road, Cross Street, Forest Hill Drive, River Road, Chandler Road and Ledge Road.

Utility Permits Approved

Bay State Gas Company won approval to install new gas mains from the Board of Selectmen Tuesday night — including mains that will service the new Andover Country Club development.

The selectmen unanimously approved excavation to extend and maintain gas mains across Beacon Street and through an easement to the Andover Country Club, then down Canterbury Street to a dead end just beyond Stafford Lane; house connections will then be made along Stafford Lane, Westminster Road, Worthen Place, Haskell Road, Endicott Road, Shadow Lane, Wescott Road and Wentworth Road.

The selectmen will discuss renewal of developer Yvon Cormier's gravel removal permit for the country club development during their next meeting on Sept. 20.

The board also approved excavation at 201 River Road to install a new gas service; and on Andover Street to install a new gas main for Heritage Lane, another new development.

Tennis Court Monitoring Continues

The Community Services department reminds townspeople that the town's 18 public tennis courts will continue to be monitored through the end of October.

The Board of Selectmen approved a fee policy for the tennis courts a year ago. (Fees are $3 per hour for singles, and $4 per 90 minutes for doubles). DCS Director Joan Pearson reports that recently some residents have refused to pay the court fees and "have actually been abusive to the monitors."

From now through October, courts will be open from 5 to 8 p.m. daily at Rec Park; from 5 p.m. to dusk daily at West Junior High/Andover High School; and from 8 to 11 a.m. on week-ends at all courts.

Appointed Registrar

Alice Hart of High Street has been named to the town's Board of Registrars, with the selectmen's unanimous approval, effective immediately.

Hart, a Democrat, will replace retiring board member Philip Dargie.

Firearms Course Scheduled

The Andover Sportsmen's Club will sponsor the NRA Home Firearms Responsibility Course, Sept. 29 and 30. The two evening lecture series, conducted by certified instructors, will provide each student with the fundamentals in safe storage and handling of firearms and ammunition. It is recommended that each student bring pencil and paper. All other materials will be provided. Do not bring a firearm.

For further information and registration, call the Andover Sportsmen's Club. All applicants must be 18 years of age or older.

Multi-Group Health Plan

Multi-Group Health Plan, a health maintenance organization (HMO) serving eastern Massachusetts and Chelmsford Medical Associates announced that the Chelmsford group will join the network of medical groups through which health services are provided to more than 10,000 members of the health plan.

As of Oct. 1, Chelmsford Medical Associates will join the original five medical groups which founded Multi-Group in 1978: Acton Medical Associates, Dedham Medical Associates, General Medical Associates in Weston and Boston, Southboro Medical Group and South Shore Medical Center in Norwell.

Residents of Andover, Chelmsford, Pepperell, Dunstable, Tyngsboro, Dracut, Methuen, North Andover, Lawrence, Tewksbury, Lowell, Billerica, Burlington, Wilmington, North Reading, and Woburn will now be eligible to join Multi-Group Health Plan when offered through employers.

Multi-Group is offered by more than 120 eastern Massachusetts employers, including Digital Equipment Corporation, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Polaroid Corp., GenRad, the federal government, the Bank of New England and numerous cities and towns. The health plan offers comprehensive health coverage including major expenses as well as routine office visits.

Rug Making

An Oriental Rug Making course will be offered Mondays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. starting Oct. 4 at Stevens Memorial Library, North Andover.

Instruction will cover use of a punch needle, learning the loom and cut method and shading with Persian yarns. Museum quality designs in embossed Chinese, Persian, Turkish, Caucasian, Anatolian and Turkoman mats of different sizes and supplies will be provided by the instructor.

Toregister, write the teacher, Mrs. Barbara Gilmore, 30 Marshland St., Haverhill 01830, or come to first class. A registration fee will be charged for all Essex County residents under the age 62.

This class is sponsored by the Adult Homemaking Program of Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute. North Andover residents can register by calling Adele McConaghy at the library.

The term "Hallmark" originated from the practice of jewelers in Goldsmith's Hall in London who put a seal on their gold and silver products to certify value.

Looking Glass Will Host Open House

The Looking Glass, an after-school creative enrichment program, will hold an open house at their registration at the Memorial Hall Library on Monday, Sept. 13, from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Some of the instructors include Lisa Bell, M.S., founder and director of the Methuen Dance Co. who is currently coaching Miss New Hampshire for the Miss America pageant; Kathy Piazza, a well known local artist who recently exhibited her work at the Andover Savings Bank; Joelle Garfi, B.S., currently on leave from an MFA program at Smith College and a professional dancer; Andrew Gray, B.A., a published poet who has recently conducted poetry and creative writing workshops; and Claudia Jarvis Brown, M.Ed. who studied at the British Infant Schools in Gloucestershire, England.

Also: Robin Seiden Mallory, B.M., a Suzuki specialist who initiated and headed the string program for the Methuen Public Schools; Susan Lenoe, B.A., well known for her creative drama classes in the Andover Gifted and Talented program; Kathy Gaynor, B.F.A., a local working artist who teaches at private schools; and Elizabeth Saunders, B.F.A., a free lance commercial artist who is credited with designing the Looking Glass logo.

The Looking Glass needs the thoughts, enthusiasm, talents and energy of many more community people. If interested in helping, contact Bonnie Pecoraro, director, or Barbara Bhiladvala, associate director.

Subscription Series Resumes

Kaleidoscope will sponsor another subscription series for children ages 3 to 6 and 7 to 12 at Merrimack College's McQuade Library auditorium.

Details will be announced shortly and subscriptions will be available in mid-September. Once again seating will be limited to assure a maximum of audience participation.

Anyone who attended last year's series or in the summer enrichment program will receive advance information through the mail. Anyone wishing to be on the mailing list should notify Kaleidoscope, Box 506, Andover, MA 01810.

Many people think now is the time to do something about the quality of government.

Kimberley Cronin thinks so, too.

Taxpayers have endured political corruption, constantly increasing taxes, and cuts in vital services.

The people want tax relief, not more tax increases; performance, not promises; solutions to problems, not committees to study problems; a tougher judicial system that would assure swift and fair justice, and constant concern for the needs of our Senior Citizens.

In short, the people want more than just politics as usual. Taxpayers can no longer afford "politics as usual."

Kimberley Cronin is a fourth generation resident of the district. She has a commitment to the district and its people. She wants to serve.

The '82 Campaign

Harriet Ahouse

Harriet Ahouse of 175 High Plain Road, Democratic candidate, this week commented on the "high quality of the activities and the cordialness of the candidates. "But I am also concerned," she continued. "The literature of some candidates has not been specific. I hope the voters from Andover and Lawrence will read all the campaign literature critically and cast their vote accordingly."

The Ahouse committee has a busy schedule planned for the weekend: On Friday night, the candidate and her staff will be at both the Memorial Hall Library for a candidates' forum, and the Dahlia Ball at the Andover Country Club.

And in addition to her usual "visibility activities" on Saturday, Ahouse will be available for questioning at the Andover Savings Bank in the morning. A third literature drop is scheduled for Saturday afternoon in Lawrence — and a surprise "fun event" is lined up for Sunday afternoon in Lawrence. "Come to Tower Hill after 3 and see," Ahouse said.

The candidate urged everyone to vote on Tuesday, primary day. And all are welcome to the Ahouse residence on election night.

Ahouse

Brian Bresnahan

As the primary campaign comes to a close, Democratic candidate Brian Bresnahan of 12 Lillian Terrace, toured the Lawrence jail last Friday with Superintendent Copolla. "I was really amazed at the rate of deterioration at the facility," the candidate said, "and the lack of cells for inmates. The jail is set up to hold 150, and last Friday there were 203 there."

With such overcrowding, it is obvious why many criminals are placed on probation rather than jailed, Bresnahan said. "We need more educational and rehabilitative services in the state. And more importantly, we need to look at the long-range possibility of building more facilities in the state." Offenders who cannot be placed in overcrowded jails are too often returned to the streets to commit further crimes, he noted.

This week, Bresnahan planned to meet with Andover School Supt. Kenneth Seifert to discuss ways to offset Proposition 2½ by "earmarking x amount of dollars per pupil in towns and cities, having the state appropriate x dollars, depending on the number of students in the system, to insure that there's enough money for the schools. It seems like a good approach to making sure everyone has enough money."

On Tuesday night, the candidate had scheduled a ham and bean supper for Lawrence senior citizens at the Elks lodge on Andover Street, Lawrence, followed by a political rally for Bresnahan followers and supporters as well as the seniors.

Bresnahan will appear at the League of Women Voters candidates' forum at 7:30 Friday night at Memorial Hall Library, and encouraged all voters to attend.

Representative 17th Essex District

Vincent P. Davey

Democrat Vincent P. Davey, 23 Enmore St., says the candidates have attempted to get voter attention in many ways, but it is now up to the voters to decide who will best represent them given the problems currently at hand and those problems that may develop.

Davey asks the voters for consideration and support. He has stressed his background, experience, character and maturity during the campaign. He is a parent, teacher, coach, accounts executive and veteran.

He notes, "To those who would judge the sincerity of a candidacy by the amount of money spent, I can only suggest that political advertising is very expensive. I have had no fundraisers, nor have we asked you for money."

Also: "I am not a 'Democrat of Convenience' — one of those who had no political affiliation as recently as 1978 or 1980 and would now ask to be your Democratic representative."

Davey appreciates his invitation to Candidates' Night, but will be unable to attend. That night he will attend the Dahlia Ball "to be with Democratic friends with whom I have worked so closely through the years, and an opportunity to spend an evening of relaxation with my family, who has worked so hard and been so understanding and supportive during this campaign."

Saturday, he will attend a cookout fundraiser for Sen. Ted Kennedy at Campion Hall in North Andover.

Davey

Nicholas J. Kolofoles

Nicholas J. Kolofoles, 35 Ames St., Lawrence, a Democratic contender, says he has found among voters "a definite feeling of apathy towards the political process — a feeling that no matter who is elected, things won't change."

To counter this feeling, Kolofoles says he is "stressing my record of service and dedication to the people of the Democratic Party. I'm not a politician, and I don't belong to any power group."

He says he will "do the job the way the voters want it done."

Kolofoles

Kolofoles says access roads to the Ballardvale area are needed to reduce the amount of truck traffic. If elected, this would be a priority.

Kolofoles reiterates his stand against proposed auto-insurance rate hikes. He has suggested a freeze on any such hikes.

He also calls for increased elderly services as well as an increase in local aid in an effort to "upgrade the educational system" and police and fire protection in the district.

John R. Fox

Democrat John R. Fox, 50 Walnut Ave., says many of the other candidates have discussed the crime issue in a very "naïve way."

A graduate of Suffolk University Law School, Fox says his training is an advantage "not shared" by the others and is important in understanding the law — particularly since the chief function of a state representative is enacting law.

Fox says it is simple to suggest legislation for crime prevention or punishment, but there are many complex constitutional issues that flow from such legislation. To talk about the subject, Fox says one has to recognize there are "certain restraints" on any legislator. With his background, Fox says he can circumvent subtle snags that the other candidates would face. He explains that good intentions don't necessarily make for good law, and might not even make it into law at all.

The candidate says he has addressed the important issues in his campaign. He has discussed a state trust fund to compensate for federal cutbacks in education, tax exemptions and legal services for the elderly, and many other issues.

He says middle America is carrying the tax burden, and there must be reform of the tax structure for people to get by "ravaging inflation."

Fox

Gerry Grasso

Indicating his support for quality education, Democrat Gerry Grasso, 6 Arthur Road, said he was encouraged this week by Schools Superintendent Dr. Kenneth Seifert's opening address to the faculty of the Andover School system.

Seifert said he would strive for quality education and work towards improving staff morale, according to Grasso, who said the superintendent also noted people are needed on the state and federal levels to help achieve educational goals.

Grasso feels his background as a teacher/coach for 25 years, his community involvement and his desire to "meet problems head on" make him a desirable candidate for state representative.

Grasso said, "I would like to thank the people of Andover/Lawrence for the information and views that I have received during this campaign. I now have a feeling of what the people of the 17th Essex District expect of their representative. If elected I will be a full-time representative giving 100 percent to my constituents, as I always have given to whatever I do."

Grasso said he looks forward to Candidates Night this Friday and the Dahlia Ball.

Grasso

Sue Tucker

Winding up her door-to-door campaign this week, Democratic candidate Sue Tucker of 6 Farrwood Drive notes that she has met thousands of voters. "Yes, campaigning is sometimes an endurance contest and, yes, I have holes in my shoes," Tucker says.

"Yet each day I learned more about voters' lives and their concerns for today and the future," she adds. "From Main Street to Tower Hill, through new Andover developments to established neighborhoods in South Lawrence, voters have opened their homes to me, and I thank them."

To represent effectively, a representative must listen effectively, Tucker maintains. "The one message that comes through above all others is that voters want some leadership and common sense in their government. Whether it is the criminal code or the tax code, citizens are frustrated by complications, justifications, and bureaucratic policies."

Most voters love the state, but resent the high cost of living here, she says. "Common sense says that we have the tax dollars to pay for quality education, senior citizen programs, road and bridge maintenance, and human services — if we managed our money better. By instituting only part of the normal business procedures used by the private sector, we could have better services without higher taxes."

Tucker says she has also discovered a concern for the future of the state. Voters are concerned that present policies should assure their children of jobs, housing and safe drinking water, she notes.

"I know that I cannot single-handedly change all that irritates voters about Massachusetts government," Tucker says. "I do know that I have the training, intelligence and leadership to help make a difference. I have heard your concerns and share them."

Kimberley Cronin

Republican candidate Kimberley A. Cronin of 8 Punchard Ave. attended a meeting at the State House on Sept. 1 to discuss the issues. Sponsored by House Republican leader William Robinson, the session included a discussion of the fiscal 1983 budget.

Cronin

It was also an opportunity for Cronin to discuss with the leadership the problems she thinks face the district in the next session. Robinson reported that Cronin "was able to ask our advice on some procedures as well as make known how she felt we could work together to accomplish these goals."

Cronin says, "As an elected representative I will be committed to making the system work for all of us. At a time when the Federal government is decentralizing, at a time when it is turning over many projects to the state for implementation, it is imperative that we get Massachusetts' act together."

The candidate says she believes her academic career and practical training have taught her how state government is supposed to run. "I intend to use that training to hold bureaucrats accountable for their actions and make Massachusetts work for all our citizens."

This weekend, Cronin will wrap up her door-knocking campaign and begin to organize primary day activities. And she will host a picnic for the many campaign workers who have worked on her campaign all summer long.

William E. Melahn

Republican Atty. William E. Melahn, 18 Ballardvale Road, says, "The major issue in this campaign is how the Democratic legislative leadership, with its four to one majority in the State House, has mismanaged this state. As a practicing attorney for 13 years, I feel I have the credentials to provide responsible opposition to the Democratic legislative leadership."

Melahn

Melahn says, "The Democratic platform demonstrates a clear intention to both increase the tax rate and expand the tax base. A bill filed by the leadership will amend the definition of tangible personal property to tax computer time sharing and custom programs. This threatens to increase the tax burden on an industry which provides thousands of pollution-free jobs for Massachusetts."

"Other legislation filed by the leadership reveals the intention to raise the sales tax rate to six percent and to broaden the tax to include automotive and television repairs, lawn mowing, employment agencies and even janitorial services. This tax is especially unfair to small businesses."

"I support the reduction of the 10 percent tax on savings and dividends to the regular five percent income tax rate which would increase investment and help protect our senior citizens from the ravages of inflation."

"We should behave to friends as we would wish friends to behave to us." Aristotle.

Hospital, Area Police To Conduct Demonstration

Not just alcoholics drive drunk. Even a few beers with friends can make you a drunk driver. And emergency department staff are often the first to see victims of an alcohol-related accident. They'd like to see drinking and driving stop.

Lawrence General Hospital's (LGH) emergency department staff and Alcohol Safety Action Program (ASAP), in cooperation with the Merrimack Valley Police Departments, Andover, Boxford, Haverhill, Lawrence, Methuen, North Andover and Salem, N.H., are sponsoring a free drunk driving demonstration Sunday, Sept. 26, at 1 p.m. at the Lawrence Airport.

"This way people can actually see what happens when a person, any person, drives after drinking," commented Wendi Jewett, R.N., LGH emergency department head nurse.

Seven volunteer drivers will drive a pylon course that includes backing in and out, a serpentine section and an evasive action section where drivers are told to veer right or left at a fork without touching the brake.

After driving the course sober, the drivers will drink the alcoholic beverage of their choice and try the course again. After tabulating their scores, the drivers will again drink before driving a second time.

Some of the volunteer drivers include Judge Perocchi of Andover, a Lawrence area district court judge, Sue Burke of Lawrence, an ambulance driver, John Phillip Foley of Chelsea, and Jim Cropper of Tyngsboro, an LGH Alcohol Safety Action Program staff member.

Andover Teenager Has An International Outlook

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Tatiana Jaklovsky looks like an all-American girl, but she is fast developing an international outlook on life. At 16, she has seen more of the world than many of her adult compatriots: She has lived and studied in Germany, Spain, France and Colombia.

An Andover High School student, Tatiana recently returned from a summer in Colombia, and she will soon be spending her junior year in Spain.

She was "too young" to feel nervous about her first trip abroad at age 12, she says, but admits to a little anxiety about her travels last year. This summer, however, she approached two months in South America with no apprehension at all. "The more you see, the more you want to see," she explains. "You have to try it the first time."

Tatiana is strikingly pretty, with long blonde hair and clear blue eyes. She is also soft-spoken and thoughtful, sitting in the living room of her Pleasant Street home, as she describes her experiences around the world — experiences that have left her eager for more.

Tatiana's parents, Czechoslovakian natives Jozef and Jolana Jaklovsky, sent her to Germany four years ago to spend four weeks with family friends in a small village just outside Munich.

Two years ago, she traveled to Spain with a group from the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS), where she studied at the University of Spain in Salamanca for one month. Last summer, she returned to Spain to live with a family in the countryside for six weeks.

In April, Tatiana joined a small group of Andover High students for three weeks of school in the Champagne region of France, about two hours away from Paris. And this summer she spent two months in the country she came to know best, Colombia, on a trip sponsored by a language study program called Youth for Understanding.

What drives a young girl to spend so much time so far from the familiar comforts of home? "I really hate spending the summer here," she says (and so much for the charms of Andover). "It's good to get away in the summer. You meet a lot more people, you learn so much, experience so much."

Her parents have had something to say about it, too. Tatiana's mother interjects. The Jaklovskys left their country in 1969, after the second Russian occupation of Czechoslovakia. Mr. Jaklovsky is a research scientist studying nuclear medicine, and Mrs. Jaklovsky, a former high school math and science teacher. They are also the parents of a seven-year-old son, Mark.

The Jaklovskys taught their Czechoslovakian-born daughter Russian and Czechoslovakian when she was four or five; she learned French and Spanish in school, studying Spanish after school at Phillips Academy.

Speaking the language of a country wins a visitor acceptance there more easily, Mrs. Jaklovsky points out. So the Jaklovskys have sent their daughter abroad "not for fun, but to improve language skills." And her husband, a former tour guide, has also passed along his love of travel to Tatiana, she notes.

"You learn so much more than the language," Tatiana adds. "Sometimes it seems language is the least important thing you learn."

She will return this month to her favorite country, Spain. "It was beautiful, very romantic," she says with a smile. "It's a mystic country — the architecture, the people. It's enchanting."

During her first trip to that country she lived in a dormitory with a group of American students. She didn't "really get to know the country from the inside" until last summer, when she returned to live with a family in the countryside, Tatiana says.

The Spanish are a relaxed and friendly people who take life at a leisurely pace, she remembers. "They start talking to you right away. They're a vibrant, excitable people." And as for daily schedules, "they'll just drop what they're doing and do whatever comes along any time."

The working day begins at 9 or 9:30 a.m. in Spain, with no time for breakfast, and the dinner break is at 2:30 or 3 p.m. Afternoons are reserved for the siesta ("There's always a siesta"), and work resumes at 6 p.m. Dinner is not served until 9 or 10 p.m., "and then the evening starts. People stay up late — discos and restaurants open at 10 or 11, and people start going out at 12 or 1 a.m."

"I thought it was great," Tatiana says of the Spanish way of life. "It can be tiring, especially with such hot weather. It's pretty lazy during the day — I got up at 11." She also liked the rich Spanish food, cooked in olive oil, even though some Americans would probably find it "greasy."

In Germany, she found the people more "reserved and serious. They are friendly, but they need a little time to warm up." Their lives are busy and organized. "Everything is very precise, planned and scheduled. Meals are at the same time every day — the father came home for lunch at exactly the same time every day, if the mother boiled an egg it was done precisely the same way every time."

Tatiana lived in a pretty farming village outside the Alps, and spent her days horseback-riding and getting acquainted with girls from the little village. She spoke no German, but learned a bit while she was there. (Both the family she stayed with and her new friends spoke English.)

She lived the life of a French student in France, staying with a family in the farming town of Sezanne ("I've stayed on a lot of farms!") and attending school six days a week (including half a day on Saturdays). Classes began at 8:30 or 9 a.m. and ran until a two-hour lunch break at noon, when almost everyone went home to eat. (She found the cafeteria food "very good," even though the French students complained about it, Tatiana says.) Classes resumed at 2 and ended at 6; dinner was served at 7 p.m.

One thing she liked "a lot" was the way the French eat. "They have very small portions, but they eat everything. There's always an appetizer, maybe something like a stuffed tomato, then a very small main course, then a small salad, some cheese, and dessert. It takes a long time, and everything looks very gourmet. Cooking is more of an art to them — food isn't from boxes like it is here."

For all their attention to food, the French have mastered the art of moderation, she notes. "In all my time in France, I didn't see one fat person."

They are "not as rigid" as the German people, but like the Germans the French "need a little time to warm up," Tatiana feels. "They can be wonderful. It's easier to meet them when you're living with a family — they don't like tourists."

"They're very proud. They think the French are the best at everything. People say they put Americans down, but the fact is, they like to put everyone down. They criticize everybody."

And they especially frown upon foreigners who do not speak their language — and speak it well. "They expect you to speak French. In Spain, if you at least try to speak Spanish the people will try to help you. But in Paris, if you don't speak perfect French they'll just ignore you — they won't even try to understand."

Tatiana chose Colombia this summer to help her perfect her Spanish, and in the farming village of Tulua she was immersed in the language. "No one for miles around spoke English. My mind was always functioning just in Spanish. On my first day back here, I found it hard to speak English again."

The people of the tiny village spend their lives farming, and know nothing more of the world, she says. "It's like cowboy-and-

Indian times. Three-quarters of the country is very, very poor. But the people are scared to change — they're not ready to modernize. They'd rather not move anywhere. They'd rather stay poor."

But there were many things to love about Colombia, where she would like to return someday: the music ("the people love to sing and dance"), the food ("fruits and vegetables we've never seen, tropical things"), the people ("wonderful, very generous, very similar to the Spanish but not as civilized or as cultured").

Electricity is scarce, so Colombian women scrub their clothes by hand, "and it's so hot they don't need a dryer." Some days the lights were out for hours "because there was no electricity left."

At night, Colombians drink beer and aguardiente — a liquor made from sugar cane — by the pitcherful. "It's the only thing they drink."

Beyond the village, Tatiana traveled across rugged mountains through Indian villages to go to a beach "almost like a jungle, virgin, with dark sand on the Pacific. It was a very small area, and everyone there lived in little grass huts. It was beautiful — there was a lot of nature," she says, laughing.

She will spend the next few months in the more civilized atmosphere of Barcelona, Spain, where she will attend a private school and live with a family. The academics promise to be difficult, but Tatiana says, "I think I'll get along okay. I'm really excited about it." She will leave next week.

end and not return until late May.

Tatiana gave up ice skating and gymnastics to study Spanish on her own time during the past two years at Phillips Academy, where she took on quantities of homework and earned a certificate of excellence. (She was unable to take more than one language under the class schedule at Andover High.)

She has, however, continued private piano and guitar lessons, along with a serious interest in painting and writing poetry. One of her poems will soon appear in an anthology of classical and contemporary love poems, Poetry of Love, to be published by Fine Arts Press of Kingsport, Tenn.

Tatiana's ambitions include traveling all over the world — she would like to return to every country she has already visited, to tour all of Europe, Africa and the Far East, and to see Czechoslovakia, her family's homeland. "I would like to see every single country."

She sees herself in a future that will put her languages and love of travel to good use, as "a diplomat or something."

Each place she has been has taught her something different — and yet all have taught her the same thing, Tatiana says. They have taught her to appreciate her home in the United States.

"I don't take it for granted now. I realize how much we have here. We have so much more here — more freedom, more everything. People put America down, but it's still the best country to live in."

Then Tatiana adds, with a broad smile, "But it's wonderful to visit."

Aglow

The Merrimack Valley Chapter of the Women's Aglow Fellowship will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday, Sept. 14, at 9:30 a.m. at the Citizen's Center, Room 45, Welcome Street, Haverhill.

Sr. Constance Jalbert, P.M., will be the speaker. She is superior of the convent of St. Rose de Lima in Chicopee, and was formerly principal of Presentation of Mary Academy in Methuen.

There is a charge. Babysitting is available at the First Baptist Church, Christian Education Building, 217 Main St., Haverhill. Meetings are open to the public.

Andover Resident Heads Group

Donna J. Cooper of Eagle Way, Andover, was installed as president of the Mayflower Chapter of the Association for Systems Management. ASM is an international organization of data processing and systems professionals dedicated to providing for the continuing educational needs of both new and experienced system practitioners. Founded more than 30 years ago, ASM is headquartered in Cleveland, Ohio, and serves more than 9,500 members in Canada, the U.S. and 33 other nations. Cooper is the 22nd president of the Mayflower Chapter which is centered in the downtown Boston insurance and financial industries.

A project manager at Liberty Mutual Insurance Company in Portsmouth, N.H., data processing facility, Cooper has worked for the company for eight years. A resident of Andover since 1981, she obtained her B.A. from the University of Delaware and M.B.A. from Northeastern University.

The Mayflower Chapter-ASM meets on the third Wednesday of the month (September through May) at Pier 4 restaurant. Meetings focus on topics of general management or data processing interest. The Chapter sponsors one half-day seminar and jointly sponsors the popular New England System seminar at Bentley College every June. The next ASM Chapter meeting takes place on September 15. Rudolph Winston, professor of Entrepreneurship and Marketing at Babson College, will talk on "System Folks are People Too."

Flea Market

The annual giant Flea Market will be held at the Greater Lawrence YWCA, 38 Lawrence St., Lawrence, on Saturday, Sept. 11, and Sunday, Sept. 12. Admission is free.

Household articles, small appliances, pictures, china, glassware, flatware, pottery, small furniture, bric-a-brac, books, records, toys, games will be included in the sale.

A rummage sale of good used clothing, some almost new, will take place at the same time.

Home-baked goodies will be sold in the lobby.

Flea market hours are 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday, and 12 noon to 3 p.m., Sunday.

Donations may be left at the YWCA anytime before the sale opens.

WHY RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Thoughtful parents know that many of the problems their children face cannot be answered by what is taught at school or learned at home. The church's responsibility is to create an environment where problems can be illuminated by the light of faith in a community of concern.

"Where will my child acquire the moral fiber to choose between compassion and self-interest?"

"How can we learn to defy the de-humanizing effects of technology, overpopulation and violence?"

"How shall we match physical growth with inner strength and maturity to cope with drugs, sexual permissiveness and material greed?"

"What equips men and women to form strong, constructive and lasting relations in the family?"

"How can one make ready to conquer pain, frustration or death?"

"What can I give my child that will enable him to face an uncertain world and to survive?"

Christ Church offers a professionally-directed modern and comprehensive program of moral and religious training to children from pre-kindergarten through high school. For information, call 475-0529, or send in the blank below.

Brockelman To Address Businesswomen

Selecting as her topic "Equality is a State of Mind," Lawrence attorney Marcia D. Brockelman will kick off a series of talks on women and power to be presented by the Greater Lawrence business and Professional Women's Association.

The dinner meeting at Bishop's, Hampshire Street, Lawrence, on Monday, Sept. 20, at 6 p.m. is open to all area women. Advance reservations are required and may be made through Marcia Hohn, 6 Pioneer Circle, Andover.

Active in the women's movement for 10 years, Brockelman is a magna cum laude graduate of Smith College and a cum laude graduate of Suffolk University Law School.

A former State House reporter for the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune, she is a director of the Family Service Association of Greater Lawrence, a director of the Andover ABC (A Better Chance) program, and a former director and secretary of Merrimack Valley Legal Services Inc.

She is a past-president and program chairman of the Greater Lawrence Chapter of the National Organization for Women, for which she also led consciousness-raising groups. She serves on the finance committee and as denominational affairs representative for the North Parish (Unitarian) Church of North Andover and was recently appointed to represent the Massachusetts Bay District of the Unitarian Universalist Association on the Strategy Action Committee of the Massachusetts Council of Churches.

Preservation Seminar Planned

The Andover Historical Society and the Andover Department of Community Services are co-sponsoring a four-part Architectural Preservation Seminar for owners and appreciators of Andover's historical structures. Topics include identification of architectural styles, choosing paint colors and maintenance techniques, to name a few. The course is open to the public.

Registration will be held through the Department of Community Services on Wednesday, Sept. 15, from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the West Junior High School. Late registrations may be made the following day at the department office. Registration is first come, first serve for a maximum of 50 persons. All programs will be held at the Andover Historical Society, 97 Main St.

The first program on Saturday, Sept. 25, from 9:30 a.m. to noon is an introductory slide-lecture by Max Ferro, well known New England preservation architect. It will cover architectural styles and construction and outline maintenance techniques for older buildings.

On Wednesday, Oct. 6, at 8 p.m., Michael Zukerman will present a slide-lecture on American architecture as it reflected American cultural and design preferences. Slides of many Andover structures will be included. Zukerman is an historian who recently completed a major high-school architectural education project for the Mass. Historical Commission.

The third program features Sara Chase, paint analyst for the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities (SPNEA). Her lecture on Wednesday, Oct. 13, at 8 p.m. concentrates on interior and exterior paint colors for structures of different ages and includes methods of identifying early colors within historic buildings.

Finally, on Saturday, Oct. 23, from 9:30 a.m. to noon, Andover's new National Register properties will be described, including recent research completed as part of their nomination. Following this presentation by a member of the Andover Historical Commission, seminar participants will have an opportunity to view a restoration-in-progress as they tour the Shattuck Farm buildings in West Andover.

For additional information, contact the Andover Historical Society.

Annual Races Are Scheduled

The Department of Community Services has announced the dates of three annual races, beginning with the bike race on Saturday, Oct. 2, then the five-mile road race on Oct. 17 and the rescheduled Andy 500 Soapbox Derby Sept. 18.

The ten-mile bike race will start the Harold Rafter Reservation on High Plain Road at 10 a.m. The route will be two five-mile loops running from the start to Forest Hill Drive to Chandler Road, to Greenwood Road and back to the High Plain Road starting line.

Competition will be in the following categories: first finisher, first resident, first female, first three-speed or less, first 14 and under, first 40 and over, first high school.

Trophies and medals will be awarded to the winners and runnersup in each category, ribbons will be given third and fourth place finishers. Racers may enter at the DCS office or at the starting line.

Post entries begin at 9:14 a.m. Registration forms and race maps are available at the Andover junior and senior high schools, the Sports Shop, The Hockey Shop, Moor and Mountain, Cycle Shak and at the DCS office in Shawsheen School.

A minimum of 25 racers must be pre-registered in order for the event to take place.

In case of inclement weather the race will be held Sunday, Oct. 3.

The seventh annual road race will be at 1 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 17, beginning and ending at the Sanborn school.

More than 200 runners participated a year ago. This year's event is being sponsored by Pepsi Cola Bottlers of Methuen. Registration forms and route maps are available at the Department of Community Services in Shawsheen School, the Sports Shop, The Hockey Shop and Andover High School.

Racers numbers will be assigned at the DCS office for those registering in person; otherwise numbers will be reserved and available on race day.

T-shirts go to the first 100 entries. Registration forms received after Oct. 15 will require a late entry fee.

Trophies will be awarded to first place finishers in various categories, medals to second and ribbons to third.

Registration forms are now available at the DCS office for the Andy 500 to be held Sept. 18 at 11 a.m. at the Lower School Street speedway.

Children To Visit Patients

Children from Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Greater Lawrence will visit Academy Manor Nursing Home in Andover on Wednesday, Sept. 22, at 3:30 p.m., bringing cookies and, hopefully, smiles to residents. Marian Perregaux, executive director of Big Brothers/Big Sisters, and David Solomont, director of Academy Manor, see this visit as an enriching experience for both the youngsters and older citizens. This is the second such visit planned by the Big Brother/Sister agency to area nursing homes, and more will be planned throughout the year.

The Big Brother/Big Sister program, a Merrimack Valley United Fund agency, serves children 7-16 years of age from single parent families. Adults 18 and over, who have time to spend with a child, may call the agency for information on becoming a Big Brother or Big Sister. Parents, teachers and counselors are also encouraged to refer children for services.

Sale Benefits Recycling

Andover's annual Ski, Skate and Sporting Goods Sale will be held from Wednesday, Sept. 22 through Saturday morning, Sept. 25, at the Pike School gymnasium on Sunset Rock Road in Andover. Sports equipment of all kinds for all seasons and outerwear such as ski pants, parkas and mittens and gloves in good condition are to be taken in on consignment. Two-thirds of the selling price will go to the seller and one-third will go to Andover Recycling, whose members will run the sale.

During these days of warm weather sporting goods clearances and winter sports equipment pre-season specials, the Andover Sporting Goods sale will have the full range to offer at much lower prices. Outerwear for children who outgrow everything in one year is an especially good buy because much of it is of very high quality and in excellent condition. The consignor also receives extra return on the original investment.

Questions are welcome. Call Mrs. Paul Hollenbeck or any of the information numbers, except the Town Hall number, on the blue recycling calendar.

CPR Course

Registration is open at the Regional Health Center, 76 Treble Cove Road, Billerica, for a three-part American Heart Association Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) course covering the basics of CPR and the four life saving skills for certification. The course will be given by an Emergency Medical Technician from Enos Ambulance of Burlington.

WE Spent $4.7M With Local Business

Western Electric, the Bell System's supply unit, spent some $4.7 million on local purchases in the Andover-North Andover area last year.

The company, according to a recently completed tabulation, also paid out $305 million to businesses throughout Massachusetts during 1981.

These purchases were part of the millions of dollars the Bell System pumped into the economies of the five New England states served by New England Telephone, reported Public Relations Manager Cynthia Austin.

"As one of Massachusetts' largest employers, New England Telephone issued payroll checks amounting to $774 million and the company paid some $132 million in state and local taxes which help support schools, roads and other services," Austin said.

During 1981, New England Telephone spent $439 million in its construction program to expand and improve service for Massachusetts' 2.7 million customers.

New England Telephone is one of 23 operating telephone companies in the Bell System which also includes AT&T Long Lines Department, Western Electric and Bell Laboratories.

To Discuss Childhood Diseases

"Sneezles and Measles: Childhood Illnesses" will be the topic of Dr. Robert P. Nelken, Andover pediatrician, at the first Lawrence General Hospital's public medical lecture series for fall on Tuesday, Sept. 21, at 7:30 p.m. Sponsored by the hospital's medical staff, this series will be held at McQuade Library Auditorium, Merrimack College, North Andover.

Nelken will cover a range of childhood illnesses including infections, both viral and bacterial; immunizations, the need, controversies and new vaccines; and some of the "newer" diseases, such as toxic shock syndrome and Kawasaki disease.

A board certified pediatrician, Nelken took his medical degree at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine, Pittsburgh, PA, and is a graduate of Rutgers University. He was chief of clinical pediatrics at the Public Health Service Indian Hospital, Tuba City, AZ.

The free medical lecture series follows the theme "Your Health It's in Your Hands."

Completes Army Training

Army National Guard Pvt. John M. Harzmovitch, son of John Harzmovitch, 32 Boston Road, Andover, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

'Healthy Issues' Series Resumes

Supper

"Healthy Issues," Bon Secour's award-winning community health education series, will begin its fourth season with a program titled "Take Charge of Your Health," on Sept. 15. Carol Englander, M.D., co-director of Whole Health Associates in Watertown, will provide positive and practical advice on taking responsibility for overseeing one's health care. She will also address the concept of holistic health and the role stress plays in affecting well being.

"Take Charge of Your Health" kicks off a new "Health Issues" season which focuses on a wide range of contemporary topics related to social, mental and physical health. Other programs scheduled are "Hope and Help for Headaches," "The Who, What, When, Where and How to Tell Your Child About Sex," "How to Handle Anxiety," and "Dieting: Weighing the Choices." Programs are provided free of charge as a public service on a monthly basis in the hospital's auditorium at 7:30 p.m. The format of each session varies, but all programs conclude with a question-and-answer period. A strong emphasis on audience participation is an integral part of the series' success.

The topics for the series were selected from suggestions received from the more than 2,000 community members who attended "Healthy Issues" programs last year. A roster of distinguished speakers representing a wide range of disciplines has been assembled to staff this year's "Healthy Issues" "faculty." For more information, contact the hospital's Community Relations Department to obtain a free brochure.

Andover Rainbow Girls will conduct a spaghetti supper Saturday, Sept. 11, from 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. at Cochichewick Lodge, Johnston Street, North Andover. Tickets will be available at the door.

Camera Club In Session

The Lawrence Camera Club begins the 1982-83 season on Thursday, Sept. 9, at 7:45 p.m. at the Bank of New England-Bay State, lower level Community Room, 84 Main St., Andover. Mrs. Polly Curtis of Canterbury, N.H., will show the beauty of the four season in New England using dual slide projectors and a dissolve, while providing her own live narration.

Mrs. Curtis is past president of the Concord Camera Club and a member of Nashua and Seacoast Camera Clubs, as well as the Photographic Society of America.

In addition to 37 weekly Thursday meetings from September to June, the club is scheduling eight educational workshop sessions on the third Tuesday of each month.

The public is invited.

New Courses In Fall Program

The Department of Community Services Fall booklet was mailed to Andover homes this week. New residents who may not have received one may get one at the DCS office in Shawsheen School. The booklet describes the wide variety of programs offered by the department and Phillips Academy.

All classes, unless otherwise specified, will begin Monday, Sept. 27. Registration for all classes will be held Wednesday, Sept. 15, at the West Junior High auditorium from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. Registration will continue at the Shawsheen School office Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., until classes begin.

Among the newer programs:

Monday

Complimentary proteins, caloric content and nutritional aspects are the major topics Julie Fernekees will discuss in her eight-week Vegetarian Cookery class which will include the preparation and sampling of vegetarian entrees.

Ann McGovern will introduce the basic skills of understanding, speaking, reading and writing the French language in Parlons Francais - French I. This eight-week course held at the high school will concentrate on conversational French.

Sharon Hill will teach a two-week Counted Cross Stitch workshop at West Junior High beginning Nov. 8. She will teach how to cross stitch holiday decorations. She will also instruct a Perforated Paper Workshop on Monday, Nov. 29, at West Junior High. This Early American craft workshop will include cross stitch ornaments and greeting cards.

Victoria Anderson will teach the making and decorating of a holiday centerpiece in a Christmas Log Workshop on Monday, Nov. 29, or Tuesday, Nov. 30, at the high school.

Tuesday

Meryle Bralower will offer a four-week Parent Survival Course at Bancroft School, beginning Oct. 5, which will help parents develop an understanding of the school-age child. Topics will include expectations, discipline, building self-esteem and sibling rivalry.

Robert Gallagher will teach a guitar class for the beginner as well as the more advanced student at West Junior High.

Mary Anne Richards will instruct a Herb Sampler course. Students will make a few herbal craft projects in this seven-week course at the high school.

Tuesday evening workshops include Karen Sullivan's Corn Husk Wreath Workshop on Sept. 28, Penny Greco's Fabric Lampshade Workshops on

Japanese Embroidery

A 10-week course in Japanese Bunka Embroidery will be held at the Methuen Senior Center in the Old Town Hall building on Broadway Street on Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. starting Sept. 16.

This old Japanese art, recently introduced in the U.S., is a simple, punch needle form of embroidery using two stitches, the straight and the fluff. Finished effects of this easy embroidery resemble oil painting pictures. Students should bring small scissors to first class. Necessary materials will be provided.

This class is sponsored by the Adult Homemaking Program at Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute. A registration fee will be charged for anyone under the age of 62.

SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBERS — You must provide the social security number of all household members 21 years or older; an indication that application for one has been made or in the case of persons who are ineligible for a social security number, an indication that none can be acquired. Section 9 of the National School Lunch Act, as amended, mandates the collection of social security numbers of all adult members of the household as a condition of eligibility for free or reduced price meals. The social security numbers on the application may be used to verify the income information on a sample number of applications. Failure to provide the social security numbers shall result in denial of benefits.

FOSTER CHILDREN — A foster child who is a ward of the state is considered to be a family of one. Therefore, list the amount of state support only as income.

NONDISCRIMINATION — All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, creed, color, national origin, or handicap, or age.

REPORTING CHANGES — Household approved for free or reduced price meal benefits must notify school official of decreases of household size or increases in income of more than $50 per month or $600.00 per year.

VERIFICATION — The information on the application may be verified at any time during the school year. If an applicant refuses to cooperate with efforts to verify the information on the application, eligibility will be denied or terminated.

MID-YEAR APPLICATION — If you do not wish to apply now or if you are not now eligible, you may apply for benefits anytime during the school year. Please contact the school at anytime during the school year to apply for meal benefits.

To Exhibit Emergency Techniques

As part of Bon Secours Hospital's celebration of Emergency Medicine Week, Sept. 12-18, residents in the Merrimack Valley are invited to attend "Emergency Medicine in Action," a special afternoon program designed to provide participants with general information on various emergency medical techniques and procedures. To be held Monday, Sept. 13, from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. on the hospital's grounds, the program will feature live demonstrations of cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and first aid for choking. Also on display will be two local ambulances manned by emergency medical technicians (EMTs). In case of inclement weather, the program will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 15.

Representatives from the Salem Fire Department will also be on hand to display an old-fashioned cadillac ambulance which is currently used for exhibition. The old-fashioned ambulance will stand adjacent to a newer model provided by A-Medic Ambulance Service, Lawrence. EMTs will provide visitors with brief descriptions and demonstrations of the various pieces of equipment maintained in emergency medical vehicles, including apparatus for oxygen, suction and cardiovascular stabilization. Members of the hospital's emergency room staff and department of education will demonstrate rescue breathing and choking first aid in an effort to acquaint individuals with proper life-saving techniques.

A lecture titled "Pediatric Blood Gases" will be held on Thursday, Sept. 16, at 1:30 p.m. in the pediatric lounge. Designed for health care professionals, this seminar will focus on the physiological components of blood gases and what they may indicate about an individual's condition in emergency situations. CHIROPRACTIC
FOR BETTER HEALTH

JAMES J. PECK, D.C.

CHIROPRACTOR

Chiropractic and Back Pain

At some time in life, back pain probably affects eighty percent of the members of the human race. The reasons for this are myriad, but fortunately the vast majority of low back discomforts are of a "mechanical" origin. This is because the spine which is entrusted with protecting the spinal cord (a complex network of nerves that connects the brain with the remainder of the body) contains twenty-four movable portions called vertebrae. The flexibility of the spine can allow misalignment to occur and this leads to irritation of the corresponding nerves in the cord and subsequent back pain. When properly evaluated, back pain will respond to treatment directed toward correction of the mechanical impairment.

This is precisely the reason that chiropractic care proves to be so effective in treating back pain. The doctor of chiropractic is a spine specialist and as such is uniquely qualified to evaluate and treat such problems.

Andona Offers Babysitting Course

What does one do if the baby cries or is injured? How do I entertain a three year old? These questions and many others are answered in the annual babysitting course offered by the Andover Recreation Department in conjunction with the Andona Society.

Available to seventh and eighth grade students, the course will be taught at Doherty Junior High, West Junior High and the Andover Y.M.C.A. beginning the week of Sept. 21.

Garden Club Holds Season's First Meeting

The Four Seasons Garden Club held its first meeting of the new season at the home of Mrs. Alan Schallop with co-hostesses, Mrs. John Arserio and Mrs. Stephen Bernier. The meeting was presided over by the new president, Mrs. James Salerno. Chairman of the program committee, Mrs. Fred Butler, presented the schedule for the upcoming year. Several programs will be open to the public. Anyone interested in attending may contact a club member.

Mrs. Norman Frost lectured on "Flowering Trees and Shrubs—Emphasis on Rhododendrons and Azaleas" and discussed the many varieties of these plants, their culture and care.

Mrs. Frost is a flower show judge and twice-winner of the John Taylor Arms Award at the Boston Spring Flower Show. This award is for the highest point scored flower design in the show. Mrs. Frost is the first person to have received it twice. She is also the winner of the Sears-Roebuck and American Garden Club Federation Civic Achievement Award and a member of the Indoor Light Society, the Rhododendron Society and the Begonia Society.

The first session will feature a film on basic babysitting and a talk with a member of the Andover Police Department. The second session will focus on a visit from a local pediatrician. A nursery school instructor will instruct the third class on basic child care and the fire department will present a demonstration on safety and first aid at the fourth class. The fifth session will present new procedures for choking situations and a test will be given at the sixth session. To qualify for a babysitting certificate upon completion of the exam, students will be required to pass the exam and miss no more than one class.

Nancy Kramer and Shirley Newman will teach at Doherty Junior High on Tuesday afternoons; Nancy Gabriel and Janet Pratt will teach at the Andover Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday afternoons; and Colleen Georgian and Cathy Sabath will teach at West Junior High on Thursday afternoons.

Cider Day

The Essex County Greenbelt Association will host the third annual Cider Day in Essex on Saturday, Oct. 2, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The public is invited to the Cox Reservation to harvest apples from the organization's orchard. There will be several cider mills on hand to press out the apples and fill jugs with fresh sweet cider.

Directions to Cox Reservation: From Rte. 128, west on Rte. 133 past Farnham's, turn in on right. From town of Essex, Rte. 133 past Essex Village Shops, turn in on left.

Roughly 70 percent of American adults own their own home and the proportion of homeowners has been rising steadily since 1960.

I LOST 101 POUNDS AND GAINED A NEW OUTLOOK ON LIFE!

Everyone tells me I look better and I feel fantastic!

Carol Zimo taught me how to get slim and stay that way!
I was a borderline diabetic and 100 pounds overweight. Other attempts to lose weight ended in frustration and failure. Then I read an article in Women's Day about Diet Center and decided to call my local counselor. With his help, I lost 11 pounds the first week! After a month I had lost 34 pounds and I wasn't even hungry. My energy level was at an all-time high and I went on to lose every ounce of excess weight. What's even more important, I learned the principles of sound nutrition and behavior modification that will help me stay slim and healthy for the rest of my life.

YOU CAN DO IT TOO!

THIS IS THE LAST WEIGHT-LOSS PROGRAM YOU'LL EVER NEED!

Peterson-McSurdy

Anne M. McSurdy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. McSurdy of 103 Chestnut St., Andover, was married to Sherman Buckley Peterson on July 7 at the Oak Lawn United Methodist Church, Dallas, Texas.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Jean Smith of Dallas and the late Richard Peterson of San Diego, California.

The Rev. Richard Stark officiated at the 7:30 p.m. ceremony. Elizabeth McSurdy, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and James M.P. McSurdy, brother of the bride, was the groom's best man, both by proxy.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the bride's home in Dallas.

Following a wedding trip to New England, the couple is at home in Dallas.

The bride, a graduate of St. Augustine's School, Andover High School and Garber Travel School, is employed as a commercial travel consultant for American Express in Dallas.

Her husband, who attended Dallas public schools and is a graduate of National River Academy, is employed as an engineer with Austin Commercial in Dallas.

Plant Sale Meeting Feature

The opening meeting of the Spade and Trowel Garden Club will be held at the home of Ann Royal, 111 Peters Street, North Andover, Sept. 14 at 6:30 p.m.

A presentation of the program for the coming year will follow wine and hor d'oeuvres.

A plant sale will also be held, featuring plants from Chestnut Court to provide space for the new landscaping and refurbishing planned for the garden there.

Prospective members are welcome.

Lettuce appeared on the royal tables of the Persian kings around 550 B.C. Hippocrates, 430 B.C., mentioned it as a medicinal plant, and Aristotle praised it in 360 B.C. There are 113 species of lettuce, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

The letter "e" is the most often used letter in the English language. The letter "s" however, begins more words than any other letter.

Michigan Woman Appointed Associate Rector At Church

The Rev. Marjean Bailey of Ann Arbor, Mich., begins as Associate Rector of the Parish of Christ Church on Oct. 1. Rev. Bailey, an Episcopal priest, was chosen by Rev. James A. Diamond, rector, from a wide field of candidates who had been reviewed and then interviewed by a parish search committee.

She is a graduate of Allegheny College, Union Theological Seminary in New York, and attended seminars taught by the world-renowned theologian Karl Barth in Basel, Switzerland. Her professional church background includes both parish and hospital ministry and her most extensive work has been in Christian education. Rev. Bailey served as a director of Christian Education for an Ann Arbor parish, trained teachers in several local churches and set up teacher training workshops for the (Episcopal) Diocese of Michigan, and has just completed a Christian Education program that will be printed later this year.

Rev. Bailey's husband, the late Rev. John

Rev. Marjean Bailey

Bailey, was professor of New Testament at the University of Michigan until his death in 1980. Her four children, Amadea, 25, Adam, 24, Saskia, 21, and Aaron, 16, all live or attend school on the East Coast.

The associate rector comes to Christ Church to serve as assistant to the rector in the various ministries of the parish as well as to bring her own unique perspective and experience to the ministry of the congregation. Her first Sunday will be Oct. 3 when she will concelebrate with the rector at all three morning services and speak at the Forum between the 9 a.m. and 11:15 a.m. services.

Kickoff Rally At Bible Chapel

Every Sunday during July and August the Andover Bible Chapel on Lowell Street conducted a Vacation Bible School for children in grades K-6.

The children who attended will be given awards for faithful attendance at a "Kick-off Rally" on Sept. 12. The public is invited to this launching of the regular fall activities. There will be a free gift for children and their parents. The rally starts promptly at 11 a.m., and the "B.A." gets under way about 12 noon in the church parking lot. Admission is free.

The church offers a "Dial a Message" ministry whereby people can call 475-9194 and receive a brief Bible-centered message.

WE PROVIDE CHILD SUPPORT

What supports a child growing up? A healthy family... a caring community... a good role model... encouragement... a positive outlook... convictions... a basis for moral living... awareness of responsibility... faith in God... a sense of purpose... love.

South Church cares about your child's receiving this support. Our Christian Education program is Biblical, personal, relevant.

Our teachers are caring and creative. Our focus is family oriented. Classes are offered for nursery through adult.

Join us in discovering the support that faith and Christian fellowship can bring to you and your child.

Recommitment Celebrated At South Church

Sunday, Sept. 12, marks the beginning of a new church year as the members and friends of South Church, 41 Central St., gather for a full day of celebration, worship, goalsetting and fellowship. Sunday School begins at 9 a.m. with an all-church gathering in the sanctuary, with teachers and their classes being introduced. Bob Mayo of Manchester, a mime whose repertoire includes parables, will provide a program around the theme of the day, "Building Up The Church."

The morning worship service at 10:30 a.m. will continue with the theme of recommitment and the building of the church. Dr. Westy Egmont, pastor, will preach and Mayo will participate with his mime as well.

After an all-church lunch on the lawn, everyone, from children on up, will be involved in various inter-generational and age level activities, evaluating the life of the church and setting goals for the year and beyond. There will be a film and a final gathering to celebrate and affirm the oneness that the church has in Christ.

Sunday School is for toddlers through adults. Child care will be provided for infants during the Sunday School hour and during worship service. Children ages four through grade six attend the first half of worship, then are dismissed to second hour programs. During the afternoon child care will also be provided for younger children.

Everyone is invited to join with others to learn and worship together. Further information about the program and schedule of South Church can be obtained by calling the church office.

C.D.A. Meeting

Raymond W. Schlapp, Was State Representative

Raymond W. Schlapp of 7 Forbes Lane, Andover, a former state representative, died Monday at Lawrence General Hospital after a brief illness. He was 75.

An Andover native, Mr. Schlapp had lived in Methuen for 20 years before returning to Andover in 1958. In Methuen, he served as state representative, as a Town Meeting member, and as a member of the Methuen Advisory Board. He was a graduate of Pynchard High School in Andover, of Bowdoin College, and of Boston University, where he received a law degree in 1933. He served as a lieutenant commander in the Navy during World War II. Later he served as an assistant district attorney under Hugh Cregg, and as assistant clerk of courts at Lawrence Superior Court.

A member of South Church, Mr. Schlapp was a past president of the Merrimack Valley Boy Scout Council, and a corporator of both the Methuen Co-Operative Bank and the First Essex Savings Bank. He belonged to the Cheruskas and to St. Matthews Lodge AF & AM, and was a Scottish Rite Mason, and a past president of the Greater Lowell American Association of Retired Persons as well.

He leaves his wife, Alyce L. (Gage) Schlapp; and one son, Frederick G. of Pelham, N.H.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Emmert Funeral Home, 93 East Haverhill St., Lawrence. Friends may call from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home.

St. Matthews Lodge AF & AM will meet at the funeral home at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Norman Ross, Served Town For 20 Years

Norman A. Ross of 1 Cassimere St., Andover, a custodian in the Andover school system for 20 years, for many of those years at Andover High School, died Sept. 6 at Lawrence General Hospital after a short illness. He was 60.

A Lawrence native, Mr. Ross served in the Navy for 20 years, on active duty in the Pacific during World War II and during the Korean Conflict. A catcher for his high school team in Andover, he remained an enthusiastic baseball fan throughout his life, often umpiring games in the Andover area. He belonged to the Andover Lodge of Elks.

He leaves his wife, Alyce (Lamontagne) Ross; one stepdaughter, Darleen Rozema of Hawthorne, N.J.; one brother, William Ross of Landaff, N.H.; one grandson, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover. Burial will be in Spring Grove cemetery.

Officers and members of the Andover Lodge of Elks held a memorial service at the funeral home Wednesday night.

Myrtle Cahoon

Myrtle (Allston) Cahoon of 24 Woodhaven Drive, Andover, died suddenly Sept. 3 at her home. She was 78.

A South Framingham native, Mrs. Cahoon was a 1925 graduate of Simmons College, and served as Alumni Class Treasurer for a number of years. She belonged to the First Church of Christ, Scientist of Andover.

The widow of Benjamin B. Cahoon, she leaves two daughters, Jean (Mrs. Duane E.) Prugh and Elizabeth Cahoon, both of Andover; two sisters, Mrs. Adelaide True Holdaway of Scotch Plains, N.Y. and Mrs. Henrietta Kinley of Haverhill; and three grandchildren, Duane E. Jr., Wendy L. and Douglas B. Prugh.

Private family services were scheduled. Burial was to be in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover.

Thomas A. Davidson

Thomas A. Davidson of 98½ Main St., Andover, a retired offset printer, died Sept. 4 at Lawrence General Hospital after a long illness. He was 74.

A native of the Bronx, N.Y., Mr. Davidson was a member of Christ Episcopal Church, Andover. He had worked as an offset printer for the Melrose Free Press. He belonged to Fidelity Lodge, AF & AM, Melrose.

He leaves his wife, Alice E. (Porter) Davidson; two sisters, Mrs. Sarah J. Finnie and Miss Isabel Davidson, both of New Jersey; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at Christ Episcopal Church. Burial was in Christ Church Cemetery. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Lundgren Funeral home, 18 Elm St., Andover.

The word "boycott" is from the name of an Irish land agent who was the first known boycott victim.

Art Exhibits

Bradford College will display "Works on Paper," the first in a series of four art exhibits for the fall semester, in the Laura Knott Gallery, Sept. 11-Oct. 5.

The invitational show, featuring the work of five artists from the Greater Boston area, includes figurative drawings, color abstractions, expressionistic and impressionistic renderings of machines and large graphite drawings done with powdered pigment.

An opening reception will be held Sunday, Sept. 12, from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the gallery. Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. There is no admission charge.

THANKSGIVING NOVENA to ST. JUDE

O Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depth of my heart, and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked.

Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys and Glorias.

Publication must be promised. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Amen.

This Novena has never been known to fail. I have had my request granted.

Publication promised.

ELECT...

Vincent P. DAVEY

INTEGRITY

Dear Voter:

Knowing how cold and long our winters are and how much we all look forward to a summer of rest and relaxation, I have attempted to intrude upon yours as little as possible.

But now, unfortunately, the summer is almost over.

The election — September 14, is but five (5) days away.

To my friends with whom I have not spoken and may feel I have neglected them, or worse — have taken them for granted, be assured that neither is the case.

Time, or the lack of time, can be the only explanation.

To those who would judge the sincerity of a candidacy by the amount of money spent, I can only suggest that political advertising is very expensive. I have had no "Fund Raisers", nor have we asked you for money.

However, I do now ask you for your consideration, your support and most important — your vote.

I am not a "Democrat of Convenience" — one of those who had no political affiliation as recently as 1978 or 1980, and would now ask to be your Democratic Representative.

We, the candidates, have attempted to get your attention in many ways.

Now it is up to you to decide:

Who will best represent you

(a) Given the problems we currently have and

(b) those that will, unfortunately, develop.

Therefore, again I ask for your consideration, support and especially your vote in the September 14, Primary and November 2, Elections.

Sincerely,
Vincent P. Davey

Indulging In The Last Of Summer's Pleasures

Labor Day weekend always seems to signal the end of summer, no matter what the calendar says. In Andover, big folks and little folks enjoyed themselves at Pomp's Pond, on the tennis courts, on the playground at at barbeques with family and friends, while they sadly bid farewell to the many warm memories of summer. Photos clockwise from top left: Ed Trainor, 16 Burnham Road, moves into a backhand during a game of singles at the Recreation Park; Breezing along for a ride are friends Kim Mondello, 297 Lowell St., and Angela Giuliani, 3 Clinton Court; Whiling away the day fishing are Keogh Lutsch, Matthew Genderon, and Marchie Lutsch, 5 Washington Ave.; Making her way up a jungle jim on the Ballardvale playground is four-year-old Vicki Giuliani, 3 Clinton Court; The tennis racket seems to disappear as Melvin Berger, 43 North St., unleashes a shot on his opponent.

Students 'Out Of A Dungeon Into A Palace' McGrail Says

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Students wandering through the new Doherty Junior High School for the first time today may see a lot of rough edges, but the overall impression — in contrast to the old East Junior High — will be of "a palace compared to a dungeon," the school building committee was told last week.

Doherty principal Richard McGrail last Thursday told the committee that Doherty would be in good shape for today's opening, even though not completely finished.

All work at the school (excluding the Memorial Auditorium wing) should be done within four weeks, he predicted, adding, "Every week it's going to look better."

"It will require some flexibility from everyone to live with it for a few weeks," the principal said, "but we are talking about coming into a palace compared with a dungeon."

Despite its unfinished state, there will be "no safety problems and no major construction delays" at the school, he added.

After touring the school with Town Manager Kenneth Mahony last week, building committee chairman Kenneth Gropper said he was "very pleased" with the renovated Doherty, calling it "a fine educational facility."

And he noted that Peabody Construction has completed the Doherty a full year ahead of schedule.

The renovations and new Instructional

Materials Center (IMC) at West Junior High were also progressing well, with the IMC expected to be completed last Friday, the manager said.

"The IMC will be ready," Mahony told the committee. "The carpet is down, the lights are up, and they were putting books on the shelves today." He called the IMC design, with its controversial pagoda roof, "beautiful."

New science rooms (except for one missing sink), special education classrooms, a choral room and teachers' rooms would also be ready for today's school opening, the manager indicated.

Over at Andover High School, where a new auditorium is under construction, some renovated areas are now complete, Mahony reported, including an administrative and guidance area.

The memorial wing of East Junior High, to be used as part of Doherty, is expected to be complete by Jan. 1; all renovations at West, by next spring; and the entire project, by next fall.

At the request of athletic director Richard Swift, the board voted to postpone renovations to a baseball/soccer field at the high school until next spring. The cost of deferring that work will be $4,000.

The manager explained that the field should be left available for use this fall because the entire West Junior High high school field complex will not be ready for use this fall as planned; heavy spring rains pushed back the date when that complex could be used.

It was never intended that both the baseball/soccer field and the larger complex should be out of use at the same time, Mahony pointed out. Gropper said that $4,000 would be "money well spent" to keep a field in use this fall, for town leagues as well as the schools.

The school building committee will next meet on Thursday, Sept. 23, at Town Hall to review bids for the final portion of the $13.72 million building project's $1 million-plus equipment budget.

Conference

The New England Safe Deposit Association will conduct its Ninth Annual Regional Safe Deposit Educational Conference Sept. 24-26 at the Quality Inn & Conference Center in Chicopee.

Zoning Bylaw Appeals Heard

By John P. Sawyer

Patricia and Thomas Malone, 20 Westview Ave., S. Chelmsford, want to convert the third floor of their Andover apartment house into a studio apartment.

But Lee Grune, 2 Magnolia Ave., maintained she and abutters to the residence at 80-82 Poor St. object because they anticipate traffic problems and believe a three-family house might pave the way for the development of others in the neighborhood.

The Zoning Appeals Board last week held a public hearing on the Malones' petition for a special permit to allow conversion of a two-family dwelling existing prior to March 10, 1941, into a three-family dwelling. The house at 80-82 Poor St., owned by the Malones, currently has two apartments and is located in a Single Residence A district.

The Malones bought the house in 1977 and made extensive renovations. They lived there until they bought a home in Chelmsford and began renting the Andover dwelling as two apartments.

Patricia Malone told the Board a studio apartment on the third floor would not detract from the appearance of the house. She said there was ample space for two more parking spaces, which the Board required.

The Board noted it will want to know where the two extra spaces will go, adding that all cars belonging to families living in the home must be able to be moved independently, without moving other cars.

Grune said traffic has been a problem since the Malones moved out of the house. She said cars either belonging to tenants or their visitors are often parked up the street and in front of her house. She stated the situation might worsen if an extra apartment is added to the Poor Street dwelling.

Grune also added she would not like to see the yard in front of the dwelling be paved to make room for more parking, maintaining such action would detract from the residential nature of the neighborhood.

She said a three-family house might lead the way for others to be converted. Grune noted she obtained the signatures of abutters against the adding of a third apartment at 80-82 Poor St. who could not attend the public hearing.

The Zoning Appeals Board will view the premises on Sept. 11 and urged abutters to be present.

In other action last week, the Board heard the petition of John J. and Vivian C. Holt, 437 North Main St., for a special permit to permit the continued existence of a boarding house there and the use of an apartment over a garage.

Holt's attorney told the Board no one ever applied for a permit for the rooming house, which puts up six boarders, and a permit was needed.

"No one ever knew this," he said, adding that Holt comes before the Board to make it a legal use. He said the premises are well-kept, and there is ample parking.

The attorney explained that Mr. Holt sometimes uses an apartment over the garage for himself.

Board Chairman Wesley E. Whitney asked Holt if it would be acceptable for the apartment to be limited to his personal use only.

Holt said it would be acceptable.

The chairman asked him if any neighbors had approached him to object to the premises. Holt said no.

The Board also heard the petition of Thomas and Valerie Glover and Gregory and Roberta Bell, 47 Whittier St., for a special permit to allow the conversion of a one-family dwelling there existing prior to March 10, 1941, into a two-family dwelling.

Thomas Glover told the Board his and the Bell family jointly own the house and want to convert it into two separate units so that the two families can live there jointly. Neither family, he said, could buy the other half of the house and renovate it by themselves.

Glover said the house needs much repair - "just about everything you can think of. It's been run down for several years."

He noted that there would be room for four cars, which the Board required. The Glover family currently lives there, and the Bells want to live downstairs. He said he has received no objections from immediate neighbors.

In addition, the Board heard the petition of Walter and Lois Dembroski, 15 Hall St., Lawrence, for a variance to permit the subdivision of a lot into two lots, one of which will be non-conforming as to frontage. The premises is located at 250 Beacon St. in a Single Residence B district.

Two Will Bypass Candidates Night

Two of the ten candidates for Gerry Cohen's seat as representative for the 17th Essex district have indicated that they will not appear at Friday night's Candidate's Night, sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

Independent candidate Richard Bowen and Democratic candidate Vincent Davey are not expected to appear at the forum, scheduled for 7 to 9 p.m. Friday at Memorial Hall Library.

The candidates have been invited to offer their views on the issues and respond to questions, four days before the primary election.

Bowen originally accepted the League's invitation to participate in the forum, but this week withdrew in protest because he said the League rules for the evening would "restrict my participation severely in sharp contrast to that of the other participants."

In a letter to Mary Moran of the League, Bowen indicated that "limited participation" would be "imposed" upon him because he is an Independent.

Davey notified the League that he had decided to attend the Dahlia Ball at the Andover Country Club Friday night, hosted by the Andover Democratic Town Committee, rather than the candidate's night.

Office Building Under Construction

A new three-story colonial-style office building is currently under construction near the center of town, and scheduled for occupancy by Dec. 1.

Andover Atty. John McGarry said this week that Coolidge Construction Co. of North Andover, a firm he owns, has begun construction of the office building at 18 Railroad Ave. The site is located across from the Boston and Maine Railroad commuter station, near Christie's Market.

Plans drawn by North Andover architect Jerry Bruno call for a three-story, Williamsburg-style brick building, with such colonial touches as a widow's walk. The 5,000-square foot building is designed to be energy-efficient.

McGarry, a North Andover resident and co-owner of law offices at 12 Essex St., Andover, said he will offer the building for lease, ideally to three tenants, one per floor. However, each floor can be subdivided, he added, to provide office space of 603 to 1,548 square feet.

The attorney, who will handle the rentals along with a local real estate agent, said he is "seeking professional or high tech users," and that an insurance company and a high tech business have already expressed interest in renting space in the new building.

THE LOOKING GLASS is a non-profit, self-supporting after school Creative Enrichment program organized by a group of Andover parents which is being offered Sept. 28-Dec. 13, 1982 to children in all four elementary schools and West and Doherty Junior Highs. Classes in the Arts and Sciences, appealing to pre-school age through 9th grade, will enable each child to pursue his/her individual interest and thereby discover the wonders of the world in his/her own way. Classes will be small (10-12) with high quality instruction in music, drama, visual arts, creative writing, science and mathematics.

REGISTRATION— Monday, September 13th Memorial Hall Library 6-9 PM

Wednesday, September 15th West Junior High 7-9 PM

Classes will be filled on a first-come, first-serve basis. After Sept. 15 mail-in registration will be accepted in courses which have space available only.

Mail to: The Looking Glass, 7 Agawam Ln., Andover

Registration fee is $2.00 per family, $5.00 for non-residents of Andover.

CLASS SIZE IS LIMITED TO 10-12 STUDENTS.

WE reserve the right to cancel a class that does not reach full enrollment and parents will be notified. Classes have been arranged in the elementary schools so that students attending that school will not have to be transported to another school. However, any students may enroll in courses offered at any school, with parents responsible for his/her transportation. It is imperative that you pick up your child at the designated time. Failure to do so may result in dismissal. We hold the right to dismiss any child from participation in the program if he/she is disruptive. There will be no refunds. On snow days and school Holidays classes will be cancelled. Make up classes will be announced in class.

Our aim is to provide as many courses as possible as we grow. This will only happen with your help and support. More children will benefit with more parents participating. Please contact one of the Directors for information on ways you can help.

Instructor: Susan H. Doue, B.S. (occup. therapy) & B.F.A.

The Decision Is Yours

Tuesday's primary election has definite significance for the voters of Andover.

Statewide there will be decisions to be made for constitutional offices, including a bitter Democrat battle for Governor; a controversial race for the same office on the Republican side.

But, for Andover voters there is a decision to be made as to who should carry a party banner for representative in the 17th Essex District. The district was originally an all-Andover seat on Beacon Hill, later expanded through redistricting to include parts of Lawrence--South Lawrence and Tower Hill.

Creation of the all-Andover district was through some very concerted efforts to impress those on Beacon Hill that Andover, with its 26,000-plus population was entitled to special consideration by the redistricting committee at the time.

Granting of the specific district produced an interesting election--a primary, which Democrats, Republicans and Independents sought nomination. The final election produced Rep. Gerald M. Cohen as Andover's choice for our concerns under the Golden Dome.

Gerry Cohen, since that day several years ago, has made an impression on the more powerful people within the State House. He has represented Andover well, standing up to Boston's Mayor Kevin White, and State Senator Harrington, during investigations as chairman of the post-audit committee.

Appointed chairman of the committee on taxation, Cohen has been outspoken on attempts to improve the State's archaic assessment system.

Basically, what is being pointed out is that Andover's representation has made an impression on Beacon Hill. He has decided not to continue in that capacity for reasons we applaud--family considerations.

What remains is for Andover voters to go to the polls next Tuesday and choose a candidate within the parties to continue the leadership Cohen has provided Andover and the state.

A local newspaper should probably take a leadership role and endorse a candidate for that office.

Frankly, with the number of candidates and their efforts to get their message to the voters, it is difficult to do so.

The TOWNSMAN this year opened its pages to all of those seeking the Democrat and Republican nomination for representative on Tuesday. There are seven Democrat and two Republican candidates.

The candidates have worked diligently since last Spring trying to convince voters of their interest in serving them and what they would attempt to do if nominated and elected.

Having provided the space for these candidates to get their message across, and commending their efforts to meet as much of the electorate as possible on a personal basis, it seems only appropriate to leave the ultimate decision on Tuesday to YOU, the Andover voter.

The decision is yours. We have had exceptional representation at the State House these past several years. Those who would follow in attempting to capture the same attention for Andover interests appear on Tuesday's ballots.

Their efforts to present their views and their desire to serve have been commendable, their interests seem sincere.

Now it is up to the Andover voters to take that extra moment to make the choice on Tuesday, and we trust that the efforts of the candidates over these past several months will not go unrewarded on Tuesday when a record turnout for a primary election should be established in Andover.

Monday, Sept. 13, there will be a fish and chip luncheon at The Haven. There will be a band to play good music and a film to entertain you after you have been amply fed. And all for $4.50. Time is short, so get down to the senior center today and get your tickets!

The next day, Tuesday, Sept. 14, the hot lunch program will resume, and this year will be held in that beautifully refurbished cafeteria of Doherty Junior High. As always, you need to call the senior center no later than 10 a.m. of the day you wish to attend. It is absolutely imperative that you make a reservation. The Weebus can arrange to pick you up and take you back home if you give them a call.

Registration for fall classes at The Haven will be Wednesday, Sept. 15. For classes having no fee, registration can be made by phone. For other classes, the money must accompany registration, although a friend can register for you, if that is more convenient, as long as the friend has the necessary funds for the courses chosen at the time of registration.

Look to your mailbox for the next issue of the Haven newsletter. It is being mailed to everyone over 60 to acquaint them with the activities of the senior center. It will have details of the fall courses, as will the Community Services Department bulletin, which will also be arriving shortly.

Last call for the Eastern States Exposition trip Sept. 19! Sponsored by the Council on Aging and the Andover Chapter of the Appalachian Mountain Club, reservations are being handled through The Haven, and everyone, whatever age, variations through the senior center must make their reservation.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Lebanon's new president a disappointment to IsraelisBy Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- Bashir Gemayel is the new president of Lebanon. He is also the leader of the 20,000-man Christian Lebanese militia. He is widely believed to be in Israel's pocket.

But we can tell you that Gemayel has been a disappointment to his Israeli friends. They wanted him to help with their invasion of Lebanon, and he wouldn't. We learned this from intelligence sources and confirmed the essentials in talks with Gemayel, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin and Israeli Defense Minister Ariel Sharon. Here's the story:

Last January, Gemayel met secretly with Sharon. Their meeting was held on an Israeli gunboat anchored off the northern Lebanese port of Jounieh.

Our sources say Sharon told Gemayel about the Israeli invasion that was coming in June. He told the Christian leader that Israeli troops might come as far as Beirut. Then he asked if Israel could count on help from Gemayel's Christian militia.

We don't know exactly how Gemayel handled the request. He may have refused outright. He may have let Sharon think he would commit his militia at the appropriate time. Or he may simply have hedged.

We do know that high Israeli officials -- particularly Sharon -- were furious that Gemayel ultimately did not assist the Israeli troops when they arrived outside Beirut. The Israelis have supplied Gemayel with arms for years. They evidently thought it was time to cash in their I.O.U.s.

As it turned out, of course, Gemayel's refusal to fight on Israel's side was a pretty shrewd move.

Gemayel is already suspect in the eyes of Lebanon's Moslem majority. They consider him an Israeli puppet. They also don't like his pro-American sentiments.

Gemayel was elected president. But sooner or later he has to win the support of the Moslem leaders, or at least their acceptance. If he had sent his troops into battle with the Israeli invaders, the Lebanese Moslems would never have forgiven him.

THE LAST HURRAH: There's growing speculation that a lame duck Congress will come limping back to Washington after the November elections with defeated legislators in position to vote on issues of vital importance before they retire to Peoria. Senate Republican leader Robert J. Dole already has broached the prospect of summoning a post-election session to deal with the touchy problem of Social Security.

If the GOP sustains substantial losses on election day, President Reagan may be inclined to summon Congress back while he controls majority support in the Senate and the House, with the help of Boll Weevil Democrats. Reagan's strategists would then be able to benefit from their present conservative coalition rather than risk their chances in the next congressional line-up.

In a lame duck session, members on both sides of the Hill, unseated by either retirement or defeat, would be casting votes until their successors take over next January. A number of them might be subject to White House promises of administration jobs in the future.

Most legislative experts in Washington predict Social Security will be the big issue in the months ahead. A presidential commission is expected to produce a report after the elections on how to revamp the financially beset pension program. A lame duck Congress could well be in position to ram through some drastic changes as a legislative last hurrah.

KHOMEINI KAPUT?: Intelligence sources report that the Ayatollah Khomeini's grip on the Iranian people is becoming more feeble. The aged fanatic may well face serious internal disruptions and a possible coup before this year ends. Intelligence experts are saying that many Iranians are fed up with the unresolved war with Iraq which has now been going on for two years at the cost of lives and a severe drain on the economy.

But at least two greedy groups are satisfied with Khomeini. They're the bandits who operate in the border hills of Baluchistan and in the Kurdish regions of Eastern Turkey. Both are profiteering from the flight of Iranians out of the country. An estimated 200 Iranians are surreptitiously skipping across the border each day. They're paying the border ruffians as much as $20,000 for safe passage of their families and their worldly goods.

Penobscot

Hayden-Wegman Consulting Engineers have been selected to perform a resource recovery feasibility study and preliminary design for the Penobscot Valley area of Maine. Area communities, including the cities of Bangor and Brewer, have joined to form a Joint Exercise of Powers Agreement Board to manage the study through the Eastern Maine Development Corporation.

The study will examine solid waste management alternatives for the region. Hayden-Wegman will provide a watershed analysis, market survey technology evaluation, site, environmental and transportation system analysis, alternative definition and final recommendations with detailed development of the selected plan. The study will be conducted over a 10-month period.

Color can be a most effective decorating tool when it comes to creating the illusion of expanded space. One way to visually enlarge a small room is through the use of a monochromatic color scheme. This technique is based on the repetition of one color throughout a room in its various color gradations from pale to deep. In this way, a smooth harmonious feeling is created. There are no sharp color or pattern contrasts to impede the eye's flow through the room's elements. Obviously, it is necessary to choose a single color that will not become boring or overpowering.

It has been noted that the reason American women are such poor home decorators yet so well dressed is that they change their clothes several times a day while their homes look the same year after year. Warrior Booters Tabbed Team To Beat

By Rick Harrison

Two-time Merrimack Valley Soccer conference champion Andover High will be gunning for its third straight title this fall, and rival MVC coaches are pointing to Dave Amundsen's crew as the team to beat.

Tewksbury (1981 runner-up), Greater-Lawrence Regional, perennial power Billerica and Lowell High are tabbed as the primary challengers, but the Golden warriors are rated No. 1.

"I understand Andover has another barn filled with thoroughbreds," commented Billerica Coach Bill Altieri, who has five MVC championships and one state co-championship to go with more than 130 career victories.

"I don't think they have the depth up front that they had last year, which may allow some teams to key on Steve Carbone, but it will take a very good team with some luck to beat them out.

The Golden Warriors, who realize that anything can happen during the course of an 18-game season, nevertheless have an added incentive.

"No school in the history of the conference has been able to win three consecutive titles," noted Amundsen. "I know Billerica and Wilmington have been other back-to-back winners, but three in a row would really be something special. We'd like to be the first to do it."

Warrior Grid Spirit Encouraging

By Rick Harrison

Faced with his biggest rebuilding job and his smallest team in 24 years, Andover High varsity football coach Dick Collins is approaching the 1982 season with a wait-and-see perspective.

However, after a week of double session workouts and two educational scrimmages, Collins is pleasantly surprised with developments thus far.

"Physically this is the smallest team I can remember since coming here (1958), and it's also the least experienced group as far as previous varsity competition goes," confirmed Collins. "We have a lot of kids who have played a lot of football in their lives, but not at this level.

"But, I'm really encouraged by the spirit and attitude they've shown. They seem to want to play and work together, which is a big plus.

"What we lack in size we'll make up for in overall team speed, quickness and aggressiveness," continued Collins. "Besides, in high school football you don't have to be big to be successful. Big players can be intimidating to look at, but if they don't move well, they can hurt you.

Defending Merrimack Valley Conference champion and Eastern Mass. Division II Super Bowl participant Tewksbury proved last fall that good things can come in small packages."

Players

The Golden Warriors, who attracted 85 candidates to the first workout August 30, have just two regular performers returning from the 1981 team which finished at 5-4-1 after winning its first three starts and going 5-1-1 through the opening seven games.

Key graduates from that team were the four captains, quarterback Brien Moriarty who is now at Northeastern University, split-end Carmen Scarpa (Harvard), offensive guard-defensive end Craig Hyslip (UMaine), and center-defensive end Mike White (Amherst).

Another big loss was wide receiver-safety Tim Grams (Ulowell), who was Andover's fifth All-Conference player.

Completing the list of top grads are Tom Wilkins, Frank DePiano, Russ Lewis and linemen Dan Donlon, Pete Callahan, Bill Powell, Jeff Gross, George Vassailides and Ed L'Italien.

The lone returnees with considerable varsity exposure are senior two-way halfback Greg Sacco (5'10", 160 lbs.) and two-way tackle Mike Sanchez (5'10", 195 lbs.).

They will captain the squad along with senior defensive lineman Wayne Giles (5'10", 160 lbs.), a varsity reserve and special teams member last year.

Sacco is assured a starting berth in the offensive backfield, but spirited competition continues for the other three positions.

The leading candidate at quarterback is senior Joe Kvefe (6'1½", 180 lbs.), who piloted the JV team last fall and strengthened his claim as No. 1 this year with a solid performance in the Labor Day scrimmage against North Andover.

Keefe is being pressed by talented junior Ralph Dellatto (5'9", 160 lbs.), who has shown flashes of brilliance during the pre-

Volleyball Season To Begin

The Andover High School girls' volleyball team began full team workouts Aug. 30 in preparation for the upcoming season in the Merrimack Valley Conference.

Last season the Golden Warriors finished with a 5-5 league record and qualified for the playoffs.

This year's schedule has been increased to 18 league matches and two out-of-league matches. All matches begin at 3:30 p.m. with the junior varsity preceding varsity matches. Matches consist of the best two out of three games. Admission is free.

season, junior Ed Hardy (5'11", 145 lbs.) and Bob Stabile (5'9", 155 lbs.). Commeau is a superb track sprinter while Stabile is following in the footsteps of older brothers, Gerry and Steve, who were excellent grid-ders at AHS.

Battling for the starting fullback slot are seniors Tom Duncan (5'9", 187 lbs.) and Andy Emmert (5'10", 165 lbs.).

As usual, the Golden Warriors have a wealth of hopefuls at offensive end, but currently the two players who have a slight edge in experience (both varsity reserves in 1981) are seniors Mike Lucey (6', 170 lbs.) and E.J. Perry (5'9", 155 lbs.).

"Perry had a great scrimmage against North Andover," offered Collins. "He has all kinds of moves and good hands, and if he keeps it up he'll rank with Glenn Verrette and the Farnhams as receivers you could count on to catch the ball if it is thrown anywhere near them."

Other players involved in the end sweepstakes are seniors Steve Hebesien (6'4", 175 lbs.) and Bill Oyes (5'11", 170 lbs.), along with the junior trio of Mark Grams (5'7", 140 lbs.), Charlie Ziegenbein (5'10", 155 lbs.) and Harold "Spike" Whitworth (5'10", 160 lbs.) who made a couple nice catches against North Andover.

NE Barracudas To Schedule Swim Tryouts

The New England Barracudas, the U.S. swimming-sanction club, will hold tryouts at the pool in the Lindsey Center of Brandeis University, Waltham, on Saturday, Sept. 11. Head coach Bob Pyatt, and his staff will hold tryouts from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m.

The New England Barracudas offers programs for all levels of competitive swimming and provides several pool locations for practices. Its introductory program practices three hours per week and stresses technique, beginning competitive skills and an introduction to endurance training. More information can be obtained by writing to the club at 70 Pond St., Natick, Mass. 01760.

Since Collins likes to alternate his receivers, it's pretty certain many of those players will see varsity time.

The interior line features four guard candidates, three hopefuls at center and two players bidding to join Sanchez at tackle.

The budding guards are senior John McLellan (5'10", 170 lbs.), who saw some service in the defensive line last season, senior Brian White (5'10", 165 lbs.).

White and Griffin were JV linemen in 1981, while Donovan had limited varsity time on the special teams.

The centers are senior Tom Argeropoulos (5'11", 165 lbs.), who was originally listed as an end, senior Keith Dyer (5'9", 165 lbs.) and junior Mark Lahood (5'8", 150 lbs.).

Dyer was a reserve fullback, linebacker and special teams performer last fall, but he's been slowed during the pre-season by a nagging virus.

Donovan has also been working out at tackle, joining junior Mike Gibson (6'170 lbs.) who played JV last year.

Defense

Many of the same players will double on defense, although the majority of the 11 starting positions are still up for grabs.

Sanchez, Giles and McLellan are the top interior linemen, but also looking good inside are junior Ian Dow (6'4", 220 lbs.) and

Ruth Teams Set Tryouts

The Andover Blue and Gold Babe Ruth baseball teams will hold their annual fall tryouts this weekend, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 11 and 12, at the Andover High varsity field.

All 13-year-old candidates should report to the field from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. both days, while 14 and 15-year-old players are requested to report from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

A second series of tryouts will be conducted on onsecutive weekends next April, after which time the Blue and Gold teams will be selected.

All 15 positions on both teams are open, with returning players not guaranteed a spot.

Players are reminded to bring spikes and glove to the tryouts.

All Andover youngsters between the ages of 13 and 15 are eligible, provided they will not turn 16 years of age before August 1, 1983.

This summer the Andover Gold team won its second straight regular season and playoff championships in the Greater-Lawrence League, adding a 24-3 season to a 26-3 mark in 1981. Over its last 72 games the Gold has a 64-8 record.

Andover Blue battled to the semifinal round of the playoffs this year, and the Blue has been in either the playoff finals or semifinals each of the last three summers.

The Gold and Blue teams combined forces in late August, with the 13-year-olds winning the Saugus Invitational Tournament and the 14-15 years olds defeating a number of eastern Massachusetts area teams in exhibition games.

Further information may be obtained by calling John Gibson (475-6470) or Rick Harrison (475-2007).

Cheerleaders Resume Practice

The Andover Junior Town Champ. Football League cheerleaders will resume their practice schedule on Monday, Sept. 13, at Central Park, on the corner of Bartlet and Chestnut Streets, from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Games start

Sept. 26 and will be played on six consecutive Sundays.

Plans are also being formulated for the first annual In-Town Cheerleading Competition. The four junior cheerleading squads will compete against one another to determine the tion, contact Bobby-Jo Morris, 6 Russett Lane.

Mother And Daughter Will Race Together

Two For The Road

The mother-daughter team of Dolyne Divino and Bonnie Sauve enjoy a run together along Argilla Road.

When the gun goes off to signal the start of the FAST WOMEN Road Race this Sunday, Andover will have its own mother-daughter team racing along the 6.2 mile course.

Bonnie Sauve and daughter Dolyne Divino, 62 Argilla Road, have run up quite a record of road race successes during the past few years. Dolyne's latest achievement was a first place finish in the women's division of the Lowell Grab Bag Road Race last month. The 7.4 mile race drew close to 1000 runners.

"I would have loved to have seen her come in," said Bonnie. "But I wasn't that fast!"

Dolyne, a junior at Andover High School, has been running for about three years. She is a member of the cross-country team and averages between four and six miles a day for her workouts.

Bonnie, has been running for five years, and these days her training runs are gradually increasing as she prepares for her first marathon this November. Her pr for the 10K is 42:41 which she established last year at Methuen's Veteran's Day Road Race. The time earned her top honors for her age category.

Both women enjoy running the rolling roads around their Argilla Road home which makes ideal training for the FAST WOMEN race. The course begins on Woburn St., just south of South Elementary School, and continues up Ballardvale Road. The major hurdle the runners will face is the hill that precedes the left hand turn onto Sunset Rock Road. The route continues along Sunset Rock Road to Spring Grove Road, and continues until Abbot Street where it turns left. The course then follows Woburn Street back to Ballardvale Road where the runners will repeat the loop, ending on the South School driveway.

There will be a dozen water stops along the route manned by FAST WOMEN members and family volunteers along the way. The double loop course offers spectators the opportunity to see the progress of the race, and the supporting cheers at the halfway mark will be grateful encouragement to the runners.

Joseph Normandy, the Principal of South Elementary will start off the race, and will raffle off the weekend for two at the Sheraton afterwards. Awards will be given in six age categories with additional prizes for the first four-woman team, first Andover finisher, and first finisher in a variety of occupations.

Day of race applications will be accepted until 12:30. The race is set to begin at 1:00 when FAST WOMEN and women from all over New England will take to the streets of Andover for a day of competition and fun.

81 Year-Old Marathoner To Speak

Ruth Rothfarb will be guest speaker at FAST WOMEN.

Ruth Rothfarb, of Cambridge, will be the guest speaker at the September meeting of Fast Women. At 81, Mrs. Rothfarb is the oldest woman to ever compete and finish a marathon.

Her first marathon was last year's Avon International Marathon held in Ottawa, Ontario. She also was a finisher at the 1981 New York City Marathon. In addition, she is the only woman to compete in all five of the Boston Bonne Bell races.

Mrs. Rothfarb, who has been running about ten years, will share her experiences and advice at the meeting. New members are welcome to attend.

The meeting will be held on Wednesday, September 15, at 7:30 at the Lawrence Savings Bank in Shawsheen Square in Andover.

Players

Andover graduated seven valuable seniors from last year's championship crew, which chalked up a 12-0-1 conference mark before bowing to an extremely physical Winchester team in its opening Eastern Mass. Division I Tournament test.

Gone are center-halfback Paul Thoday, now at North Adams State, Yvan Levesque (North Adams), twin forwards Dan Roberts (Ohio Wesleyan) and Adam Roberts (Tufts) and fullbacks John Lemieux (Salem State) and Greg Shionis (Essex Agricultural).

Among the 44 candidates who arrived for the first day of double session workouts (August 30) were a nucleus of seven returning varsity regulars and the best from an undefeated JV squad.

Leading the way for AHS will be co-captains, senior center-forward Steve Carbone, senior goalie Dan Kimball and senior halfback Dan Boland.

Carbone, who combines soccer's best skills with height, speed and endurance, led the MVC in scoring last fall with better than 20 points.

Kimball, like Carbone a conference All-Star, was the backbone of a Golden Warriors' defensive corps that surrendered only seven goals in 13 league games.

Other seniors expected to contribute tremendously in 1982 are halfbacks Tom Maginnis, Dave Bates and John Hevehan, forwards Paul Finnegan and Chris Egan and fullbacks Rob Retelle, Greg Silva and Dan Poore.

Senior Dave Collins plays fullback and forward with equal adeptness, while junior Hai Dang will contribute at forward.

Transfer student Dan Allard, who moved to Andover from Connecticut, has looked good at forward.

A trio of sophomores, all members of the West Junior High freshmen team, have impressed Amundsen during the pre-season.

The sophs whomay step in are halfbacks Nick Bates and Dave Keene and left win Paul Hevehan.

Junior Brian Sheehey is the back-up goalkeeper.

"Our basic strengths are experience, and a group of seniors who have been winners and want to make things happen again," related Amundsen.

"The teamwork has been excellent during the pre-season. The ball control skills are good, the team speed better than average and we should be strong in the air," added Amundsen.

Amundsen is beginning his seventh year at the AHS helm, and three of his previous six Golden Warrior teams have qualified for the Eastern Mass. Tournament while chalking up more than 50 total victories.

Andover' opening scrimmage with Middlesex League member Lexington produced a 4-1 loss. "We got our heads handed to us," admitted Amundsen, "but they looked very strong and we learned a few things."

The Golden Warriors came back to defeat Beverly 6-3, and AHS was scheduled to play traditional Middlesex League power Wakefield in its final tune-up Labor Day.

The regular season begins Wednesday, Sept. 15, with a game against Greater-Lawrence, and later that week Andover faces Billerica.

"We should know pretty quickly where we stand after those two," concluded Amundsen.

"Dave is a great prospect," lauded Collins. "He can really scoot and should figure in our plans somewhere down the line."

Collins also had good words for half-back-linebacker Brian Finnerty (5'7", 145 lbs.), tackles Tim Scanlon (6', 210 lbs.) and Phil Starks (5'11", 195 lbs.) and end Chris Madden (5'8", 150 lbs.).

Several of those sophomores have been working out regularly with the Golden Warriors' second unit.

Kickers

Andover has been blessed with a number of fine placekickers in recent years, most notably Scott Seero, Peter Reilly, Manny Silva and Glenn Acciardi.

Punting has not suffered either with players like Seero, Dave Nardone and Tom Wilkins around.

This year should be no exception. In the punting department both Billy Vickers and Mark Nardone have been booming the ball and right now it's a toss-up.

Ziegenbein appears to have the edge in PAT placements, while the kickoff chores should fall to either sophomore Craig Hammond or Zalanskas.

"Ziegenbein kicked for the JV team last season and he's extremely accurate," stated Collins. "Peter Reilly has been working with both Hammond and Zalanskas this summer, and the final choice will be Peter's. Hammond has a very powerful leg."

Volunteer coach Reilly is best remembered for booting the deciding point through the uprights in Andover's dramatic 21-20 overtime victory against Salem in the 1974 Eastern Mass. Division II Super Bowl.

He later kicked for the University of Rhode Island and several semi-pro teams in the Eastern League.

Scrimmages

Andover scrimmaged Greater-Lowell Regional last Saturday morning at Eugene V. Lovely Field and hosted North Andover Monday morning for their now-traditional Labor Day get-together.

Greater-Lowell competed in the Merrimack Valley Conference the past two years, but took its lumps (one victory in 20 games) and has opted to play an independent schedule this fall.

The Gryphons outscored Andover 19-8 in the scrimmage (3-1 in touchdowns), but the score is deceptive.

"We sat out 20 of our veteran players, 13 of them with nagging injuries of some sort," explained Collins. "It wasn't exactly a JV scrimmage for us, but we had our second and third units going against their first team."

"It was a constructive scrimmage for both schools. Greater-Lowell went home happy and more confident, and we gave most of our back-up players a chance to get their feet wet in varsity competition. Everyone had a chance to show us what he could do," commented Collins.

Shivers scored the AHS touchdown on a short run, and the two-point conversion came on a pass to sophomore Shane Smith alone in the right corner of the endzone.

Smith also moved the team well during his stint at quarterback, Tom Lutz ran well out of the backfield, and Kraig Burzlaff made a fine pass reception.

The Golden Warriors came back almost at full strength for North Andover, although Sacco (bruised knee) and Demers were kept on the sidelines for precautionary reasons.

"It was an encouraging performance," related Collins. "We outscored them 12-6 when the first teams were on the field, with Keefe throwing TD passes to Stabile and Perry. Both teams added one touchdown apiece when the second units were in there."

"We've been led to believe North Andover has a pretty strong team this year. Naturally, we made a few mistakes, but not as many as we usually do against them."

"In the past we've had problems moving the ball against North Andover, but not today (Monday)," observed Collins.

Wahoos

The swim team involves several practices per week with the season running from September to April. The dual meet season is December through February with one meet per week on Saturday afternoons.

Tryouts are from 5:15 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.; 10 years and under, Monday, Sept. 20; 11 and 12 years old, Tuesday, Sept. 21; 13 and 14 years old; Wednesday, Sept. 22; 15-18 years old, Thursday, Sept. 23; all those who tried out, Friday, Sept. 24.

Tryouts for divers will be held at the Lawrence Voke School at a time to be announced later. For further information, call the Greater Lawrence YWCA.

"Of course, our offense rarely looks good the first time out. It's a complicated system and truthfully, there is too much to learn in such a short space of time."

"Our blocking and tackling needs improvement," added Collins. "But that's understandable because I'm not too keen on live tackling and banging all week in practice."

The Golden Warriors have one pre-season scrimmage remaining against Wellesley High this Saturday morning (10 a.m.) at Wellesley.

Coaching Staff

The Andover coaching staff remains virtually the same, with a couple of volunteers boosting the numbers.

Bill Vickers will work with the defensive secondary, Dic Bourdelais with the linemen, and Glen Alsup coaches the ends and doubles as the team trainer.

George Sullivan and Jerry Shimmel are the JV coaches, Steve Tisbert directs the West freshmen and Jim Hurley the Doherty freshmen.

The volunteer assistants are Peter Reilly (kickers), former Boston College All-East standout Gerry Stabile (secondary) and Bill Strout (line).

Strout, a Reading businessman, joined the staff last year and has been an invaluable addition. He is simply a "football fanatic" who works his schedule in such a manner that he never misses an AHS practice.

Record

Aside from Dracut High institution Ed Murphy, who launches his 37th season at the

Advanced Lifesaving

The Greater Lawrence YMCA, downtown family branch, offers a Red Cross Advanced Lifesaving course Tuesdays, from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m., beginning Sept. 28.

Pre-requisites are good swimming ability and must be 15 years of age or older. A swim test must be passed to obtain entrance to the course.

The Red Cross Advanced Lifesaving course is designed to provide training in swimming and lifesaving skills for contact rescues, knowledge and skills to avoid swimming rescues when possible and develop watermanship required of the highly skilled lifesaver. A Red Cross Advance Lifesaving Certificate will be awarded upon completion of the course.

For further information, contact the Lawrence YMCA, 40 Lawrence St., Lawrence.

Middies' helm with 191 career victories, Collins is the winningest coach in the Merrimack Valley.

He enters the 1982 campaign with a 136-72-12 overall record, including a 101-37-7 mark in the MVC.

His teams have won conference championships in 1966, 1971 (co-champ with Dracut), 1973, 1974 and 1975.

Three consecutive Super Bowl appearances were made in the mid-70s, and the Warriors were crushed by Catholic Memorial 43-12 in 1973 before chalking up consecutive victories over Salem (21-20 in OT) and Plymouth-Carver (7-3) in 1974 and 1975, respectively.

Collins has experienced just one losing season since 1963, and that occurred in 1970 when a pair of one-point losses left AHS at 3-6-0 overall.

Schedule

Andover opens the season on Saturday, Sept. 18, when it hosts Lawrence High at Lovely Field (1:30 p.m.).

The Lancers are 17-2-1 the past two seasons since the arrival of Steve Perrochi on the scene, and Lawrence has shut out the Golden Warriors the past two years with a 17-0 victory in 1980 and a 0-0 standoff last fall.

The rugged early-season schedule continues with games against defending champ Tewksbury, and a night game Oct. 1 against Lowell High at the Red Raiders' Cawley

Rub a small amount of salad oil on the inside of a cast iron skillet or dutch oven to keep it seasoned. Place paper towels between such pans before storing.

In one California city, it is a misdemeanor to threaten a butterfly.

Memorial Stadium.

Lowell started Andover's three-game, end-of-the-season losing streak with an exciting 22-21 victory last year, and in 1980 LHS scored in the closing to edge the Warriors 6-0 at Lovely Field.

"It's a terrific football league," observed Collins. "Every school emphasizes the sport and almost every game is a battle. I don't see anyone short."

"This year it really looks wide open. Great-Lawrence has a strong backfield returning, Methuen has those big horses over there, Haverhill and Central have quite a few kids back, and Lawrence will always be good with Steve (Perocchi) around.

"On the other side of the conference, Lowell and Chelmsford are veteran teams (AHS does not play Chelmsford this year, however), Dracut always comes up with something and Tewksbury has a great program going."

It figures to be an interesting season for Andover, with more excitement than last Friday night's (yawn) "Sophomore Follies."

50 Mile Bike Trip

Dave Williams and John Bentley, leaders of the department's summer evening bike trip program, are planning a 50-mile round trip bike trip to Newburyport on Saturday, Sept. 11. The trip will begin at 9 a.m. at Central Park. Participants should plan to arrive at Newburyport at approximately 12 noon, spend an hour or two there and return home at approximately 4:30 p.m. The return route will differ from the route of arrival. Bikers must be 13 years of age or older and have a ten-speed bike. In case of rain, the trip will be held Sept. 18.

Lost And Found

Summer program is over and the Department of Community Services has a box full of lost and found articles: sweaters, towels, pants, etc. Anyone who has lost articles may browse through the material Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Preserving And Canning

Greg Reppucci, an instructor from Essex Agricultural Institute, will teach a three-day intensive mini-course in preserving and canning beginning Tuesday, Sept. 14, at Andover High School. The first two evenings will be a lecture discussion on the techniques of salting, freezing and the principles of canning high and low acid foods. Class will conclude on Thursday evening at the institute where students will have a "hands on experience." Students may have to supply some materials. Registrations are being accepted at the DCS office in Shawsheen School.

Fall Program Registration

The Department of Community Services Fall Program and the Phillips Academy Program registration will be held Wednesday, Sept. 15, at the West Jr. High School auditorium from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. Unless otherwise indicated all classes will begin the week of Monday, Sept. 27. All residents should be prepared to show proof of residency. Fall program booklets have been mailed and should arrive at Andover homes this week. Priority in registration for all DCS classes will be given to those at the evening registration. Forms received by mail or in person at the office will not be counted until Thursday, Sept. 16. No phone registrations will be accepted.

"Nutcracker"

The Department of Community Services will sponsor an afternoon with the Boston

Ballet to see "The Nutcracker" on Sunday, Dec. 12. This enchanting holiday tradition is a must for the entire family. Tickets are limited and are on a first-come, first serve basis. Reservations may be made at the Department of Community Services office in Shawsheen School. A bus will leave Andover High School parking lot at 1:45 p.m.

YWCA Offers Fall Programs

For infants six months to three years, accompanied by parents, swimming is offered weekday mornings, early evenings and Saturdays. Gym and swim is offered one morning per week.

Swimming is offered for tots three to five years old weekday mornings, afternoons and Saturdays. Gymnastics are on Saturday, gym and swim is one morning per week. The Y is also offering a fall day-care program with swim, gym, crafts, cooking, etc., for children ages two years, nine months to first grade. This program is available on a full or part-time basis.

For children ages six to 17, instructional programs include swimming gymnastics, cooking, cheerleading dance and more. Classes are available weekdays after school and Saturdays. Saturday's Barrel of Fun is available to members and non-members from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. This is a drop-in recreational gym and swim program.

Milk is nearly perfect food. Although milk averages about 87 percent water, it contains nearly all the basic food materials needed for growth and energy. Milk solids (the amount other than water) contain protein, fat, carbohydrates and ash. A large part of the calcium and phosphorous in food eaten by people in the U.S. is in milk.

Six New ABC Students Arrive

The Andover ABC house is once again opening its doors on Main Street to 11 students. Five students are returning to Andover and will be joined by six new students. Returning students are: John Harper, Darby, PA (senior); Sherry Cunningham, Newark, N.J. (junior); wai Gee Chu, Bronx, N.Y. (junior); Ian Dowe, Bronx, N.Y. (junior); and Melvin Thomas, Bronx, N.Y. (junior).

Pamela Burton was on the tennis and softball teams and was a member of the National Honor Society, the drama and the art clubs.

Patricia Mabry writes poetry and enjoys modern dance, cooking, skating and bicycling.

Gea Payton is interested in attending medical school.

William Rolon was an audio-visual aide, volunteer junior counselor and received a medal for art achievement.

David Shivers was on the football, basketball and track teams and received an MVP award in basketball.

Clayton Gonzales plays baseball and is interested in chess and karate. He received the Chauncy Award, a music certificate for participation in the burrough-wide orchestra.

Feverfew is a low, hardy plant with white daisy-like flowers. People once believed that it could drive away fever. Its name means to put fever to flight. It doesn't work.

Boat Trip

Sarah Robbins from the Peabody Museum of Salem's Education Department will head a boat trip around Cape Ann on Saturday, Sept. 25. The boat will leave Rose Wharf, Gloucester, at 9:30 a.m. and travel into the working parts of Gloucester and Rockport harbors, into Lane's and Pigeon Covers, and past the twin lights on Thatcher's Island.

Bring lunch, beverages will be available on board. The boat will return by 2:30 p.m. Prior registration is required.

Racquet Tournament

Racquetball and tennis players around New England are signing up for the Sept. 24-26 "Raise a Racquet" tournament at the Boston Athletic Club to raise funds for the Boston Floating Hospital for Infants and Children.

Originally a hospital ship, the Floating Hospital is part of New England Medical Center, the primary teaching facility of Tufts University School of Medicine.

The tournament is sponsored annually by Friends of Floating, a group of parents and friends whose children have been Floating patients. This year's proceeds will outfit the playroom in the new Floating Building which spans Washington Street near the Boston theatre district.

Registration deadline is Sept. 20.

Every entrant is guaranteed at least two rounds of play, Saturday dinner and dancing, a souvenir T-shirt and a chance at doorprizes that include a Las Vegas trip for two.

Oktoberfest

True to the alleged tradition of Crazy Ludwig of Babaria, Oktoberfest in Salem will be held once again in September. The German American Club of the North Shore will sponsor its fifth Annual Oktoberfest at the Salem Marketplace on Friday, Sept. 10, and Saturday, Sept. 11.

German beer, bratwurst, knockwurst, strudel and cakes will be for sale.

Bavarian-type bands will entertain continuously in the large tent.

Church School Registers On Sunday

The religious Education Committee of the Andover Unitarian Universalist Church will host a Religious Education Fair this Sunday to acquaint children and parents with the program for the coming year. Materials to be used will be on display, and there will be an opportunity to register children and meet the teachers.

Marion Perregaux and Debbie Zahka will teach the preschool children; Karen Paterson and Susan Knowled will work with first and second graders; Betsy Black, Gail Ens-dorf and Joe Zahka will teach third and fourth grades and Tom Black, Jayne Hamm, Merle Young and Ed Malakoff will share responsibility for the fifth and sixth grade classes.

Preschoolers will use a Growing Times curriculum; the first through fourth graders will use a Unitarian Universalist Identity curriculum developed by Religious Education Director Karen Paterson of Andover; and the fifth and sixth grades will be introduced to a curriculum designed by the Social Service Committee of the Unitarian Universalist Association in Boston.

Parents are invited to join the congregation for the morning worship. Services begin at 10:30 a.m. at the November Club, 6 Locke St., downtown Andover. Following the morning's program, there will be a Homecoming pot luck luncheon. Participants are asked to bring a main dish, salad or dessert. Newcomers are welcome.

Religious School To Begin

The Religious School of Congregation Tifereth Anshai Sfard, 492 Lowell St., Lawrence, will start its fall term on Sunday, Sept. 12.

Registration is open for grades kindergarten through post Bar/Bat Mitzvah. Week-day classes in the Hebrew language are held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday classes (including the Hebrew language, customs and ceremonies, history, current events, arts and crafts and music) are held from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Students are welcome from all areas in and surrounding the Merrimack Valley, as well as southern New Hampshire, and may register for the complete program or various aspects of it. Children are divided into classes according to age and educational development.

The program emphasizes the building of enthusiastic and positive attitudes towards the students' religious heritage.

The staff includes several experienced teachers, as well as parental aides who assist in various projects. Field trips will be conducted throughout the year.

Holiday programs, plays, participation in services, etc. are all included in the curriculum.

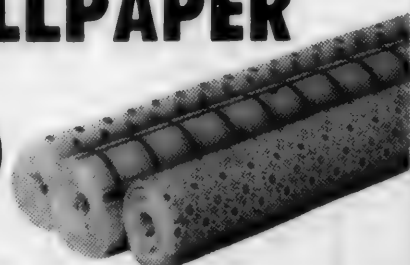

Atty. Maurice Schwartz of Andover is chairman of the school's board of education. Registration is open to all whether or not members of the congregation and may be made by calling Atty. Schwartz or call the synagogue Monday through Thursday 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Hart Says Congress Has Broken Faith

In commenting on the estimated projection of a $155 billion deficit by the Congressional Budget Office, Fifth District Congressional hopeful Louise Hart of Andover noted that the deficit is "partially the result of Congress' breaking faith with the people."

Hart is seeking the GOP nomination in a sticker campaign.

"The fact is that real government expenditures are increasing faster since President Reagan took office than they did under Jimmy Carter," says the Lawrence native.

"The budget cuts which the taxpayers voted for Reagan to achieve have yet to happen," says Hart. "The only 'reductions' have been from hypothetical budget projections. During the first nine months of fiscal 1982, federal expenditures were up more than $50.6 billion or over ten percent over the previous year. Further, $30.5 billion of that increase came outside the Department of Defense. And, next year, with the country barely recovering from a devastating recession, the budget will increase even more."

Hart noted that such increases mean a crowding out of private investment spending and tax increases which hurt the average taxpayer "who, according to the statistics, hasn't been able to keep up with inflation in the first place."

What is needed, according to Hart, "is an honest commitment to do the will of the people, to cut the unnecessary fat from the budget and to achieve real tax reform."

"In 1980, the people were promised a three-year, 30 percent cut in their taxes. However, last year they were given only five percent because Congress gave away the rest to special interests."

"For instance, last year, because the Democrats who control the House of Representatives wanted to continue their policy of special breaks for special interests, President Reagan was forced to compromise."

"One of those compromises resulted in 'safe-harbor tax leasing,'" notes Hart.

"This year," says Hart, an advocate of the flat-rate income tax system, "their $98 billion dollar 'tax reformer' hurts those who can least afford it and doesn't provide enough reform."

"The withholding tax on savings and interest will hurt the elderly and discourage savings and investment as does the penalty on those who withdraw their annuities early.

"Congress had an opportunity to positively encourage investment and achieve needed reform," says Hart. "One possibility would have been to reduce the capital gains holding period from a year to six months. This would encourage more investment and would generate more taxes from expanded activity—rather than from just ever-higher rates of taxation."

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — September 1907

The police officers are looking up all unlicensed dogs, and as the returns must be made on the first of October all dogs must be licensed before then.

The repairs at the Memorial Hall Library have been practically completed, and the improvement is so marked that the place is scarcely recognizable. The walls and ceiling of the reading room have been decorated to match the coloring of the Memorial Room above, and all the woodwork has been re-finished.

After a full discussion regarding the petition of the Boston and Northern Street railway company for permission to act as common carriers in Andover the citizens who attended the hearing held by the selectmen in lower town hall last evening voted unanimously that it was the sense of those present that the selectmen should not grant the privilege desired. The selectmen took the matter under advisement.

Ballardvale will go to North Woburn Saturday afternoon to play the strong team of that place. A delegation of local fans will accompany the team on the 1.54 train. Ballardvale will be represented by the strongest nine they can put in the field.

50 Years Ago — September 1932

The U.S. Civil Service Commission announces an open competitive examination for laborer to fill a vacancy in the position of charman at 50 cents an hour for each hour of actual service in the new Federal building at Andover, Massachusetts.

"I had three Hoodsies, some lemon and lime, ginger ale and orangeade." Such comments as these were heard frequently late Saturday afternoon from children who had attended the American Legion Day swimming events at Pumps pond bathing beach. The refreshments were given free, and to say that the children partook eagerly would be putting it mildly.

Albert L. and Sidney A. Batchelder are enjoying a five hundred mile motor cycle trip with Washington, D.C. as the objective. They are camping out on the way, boy scout fashion.

The headmaster at Phillips Academy, Dr. Alfred E. Stearns, has been granted further leave from his duties to recuperate from the lingering effects of his operation. He is planning to take a trip to Europe with his family this fall and meanwhile Professor Forbes will continue as acting head of the school.

25 Years Ago — September 1957

Almost one-third of the town's area will become "rural" — meaning two-acre house lots — if special articles drawn by the Planning Board are approved by town meeting Sept. 16, according to a map showing the proposed changes.

"Back to School" — that most heralded of September events — once again becomes a reality this coming Monday, when Andover's public school doors open wide to 2,980 students. By the middle of the month — Sept. 17 to be exact — nearly 5,000 boys and girls will be attending Andover schools, a record in the annals of all local educational institutions.

Surveying parties from the state Department of Public Works have been busy in Andover in the past two weeks. Route 110 planning has accounted for the step-up in activity here, it is reported. The crews have been busily engaged in the Fletcher-Binney St. area, where preliminary plans showed the new highway virtually wiping out the residential section.

A first assembly in the beautiful new auditorium of Andover High School, followed by a guided tour of the entire plant, will feature the opening of school for all the sophomores, juniors and seniors, who will enter their new school "home" Monday morning at 8:10 a.m.

10 Years Ago — September 1972

The Presidents of the Boards of Trustees of Phillips Academy and Abbot Academy have requested Theodore R. Sizer and Donald A. Gordon, the headmasters of their respective schools, to explore the feasibility of combining Abbot Academy with Phillips Academy to achieve a single coeducational school at PA. This is the latest in a series of planning studies on the future relationship of both schools.

While choice of a new dump site and funds to acquire same will be the prime topic for the Oct. 2 town meeting, voters will be facing an assortment of items in the 29-article warrant which was closed by the selectmen Friday afternoon. The dump items which will include a choice between two sites and a decision regarding municipal collection of refuse are expected to draw the prime interest.

Vacancies in the key positions in the department of public works have been created by the compulsory retirement of Philip Rollins as chief diesel pump operator at the pumping station and the Oct. 1 departure of Forestry Superintendent Philip Busby to accept a position with the Mass. Electric Co. Both men have served the town for several years in their respective posts.

The board of appeals has acted favorably on a petition to reinstate a special permit issued to Doris Bacon, owner of property at 429-431 South Main St., to operate an existing gasoline service station. The board early this summer revoked the special permit when it was determined the station was violating the special permit granted in 1958 by the zoning board.

First Half Report From BASF Group

Since the moderate sales gain in the first quarter of this year was largely dissipated by a lag in the second, net sales of the BASF Group in the first half of 1982, totalling $6.9 billion, were just one percent higher than in the corresponding period last year. Volume was down slightly. Pre-tax earnings declined in the first six months of the year to $231 million and thus fell 34.9 percent of the first-half 1981.

The refinery sector, commodity plastics, fiber raw materials, the potash business and some of BASF's North American companies were subjected to the largest declines in sales. On the other hand, sales increased in consumer-oriented product lines: information systems, nutrition, pharmaceuticals, coating and dispersions. Business in crop protection products and chemical intermediates was satisfactory. Regionally, business developed favorably in Europe and Brazil.

The drop in earnings was principally attributed to continuing price deterioration in the refinery sector, the sharp downturn in potash, the continuing lack of satisfactory profitability in commodity plastics and fertilizers as well as the persisting worldwide recession. Earnings from operations in consumer-oriented products improved.

The BASF Group's capital expenditure program proceeded according to plan. Outlays in the first half of this year, totalling $386 million, were 5.7 percent higher than in the corresponding period last year.

Major BASF affiliates in the U.S. are Badische Corporation (man-made fibers, chemicals), BASF Systems Corporation (magnetic recording media and nyloprint[®] printing products), BASF Wyandotte corporation (chemicals), Fritzsche Dodge & Olcott, Inc. (flavors and fragrances) and Knoll Pharmaceutical Company.

Graduate Education

Graduate education is the focus of two drop-in expositions to be held by Northeastern University from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Sept. 9 at its Boston campus, Room 225, Dockser Hall, 360 Huntington Ave.

Representatives of the university's eight graduate schools and from the offices of Financial Aid, Cooperative Education and the Registrar will discuss full- and part-time graduate programs.

Classes will begin the week of Sept. 27.

GOAL To Hold Breakfast

On Productivity

In an effort to improve the competitiveness of area industry in the world market, the Growth Opportunity Alliance of Greater Lawrence (GOAL) is sponsoring a CEO Breakfast "Productivity Through Quality—Theories, Practice and Public Policy," on Friday, Sept. 10. Top organizational decision-makers will learn of a proven approach to increased productivity at the Sheraton Rolling Green in Andover.

Dr. W. Edwards Deming, world-renowned statistician who turned the meaning of "Made In Japan" from "junk" to a synonym for quality, will share his methods of productivity improvement with more than 100 chief executive officers, presidents, vice presidents and plant managers. William Cunningham, director of Honeywell, Lawrence operations, Dr. Myron Tribus, director of M.I.T. Center for Advanced Engineering studies, and Senator Paul E. Tsongas of Massachusetts will also share their experiences with the Deming approach and views on the issue.

The meeting will begin with breakfast at 8 a.m. and conclude with a question and answer period at 10:30 a.m.

For reservations and information, contact Lee Alphen, G.O.A.L., Box 1465, Lawrence, MA 01842.

Fund Raising Campaign Successful

The American Heart Association's Northeast Massachusetts Division recently completed a successful annual fund-raising campaign according to Alexander Tennant of Lynn, vice chairman of the board. The Northeast Massachusetts division is the American Heart Association's local component serving the Northshore and Merrimack Valley. This past year's campaign, spearheaded by regional coordinators, June Velandar of Lynnfield and Marchia Gray of Groveland, netted $151,000.

Nearly $25,000 was raised in the Greater Lawrence area under the leadership of Atty. William E. Melahn, volunteer chairman for this area. Other local volunteers providing leadership throughout the campaign included Dr. Charles Ellis, Joseph Carbone, Atty. Robert Pomeroy and John Obert, all of Andover, Linda Frost, R.N. of Lawrence and Peggy Robers of Reading. Robert Gaivin of Lawrence and Roger Vaillancourt of North Andover coordinated the local Bar Hearts Campaign and "Jump Rope for Heart" special events were held in schools throughout Lawrence under the direction of Karen Zaccari and in Andover, under the leadership of Dot Christopher, David Amundsum and Carl Lipmann. Also, the Andover Country Club hosted the Heart Fund and Canadian Invitational Open Golf Tournament which involved many professional athletes and local businessmen. The tournament was coordinated by club pro Spike Boda and Yvon Cormier. Local treasurers for the Heart Association Campaign were Bruce Westaway at Andover Savings Bank, John Garozzo at Arlington Trust

MIFA Director Praises Action Reforming Bonds

The executive director of the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Agency has applauded provisions to reform industrial revenue bonds (IRBs) included in the tax bill just approved by Congress.

"The reforms adopted by Congress represent a victory for the forces of light over darkness in our struggle to finance the growth of smaller businesses in Massachusetts," said Robert E. Patterson, MIFA's top administrator.

Patterson said that reform provisions will preserve the use of IRBs for smaller companies while eliminating specific abuses of the program, such as financing for fast food chains, golf courses, country clubs and recreation facilities.

"Congress recognized that in the midst of a devastating recession, high interest rates, spreading bankruptcies and near double-digit unemployment, now is the worst time to stamp out IRBs," he said.

According to Patterson, the more than 1,000 bonds approved by MIFA since 1978 will result in nearly $1.5 billion of investment; 52,000 new jobs; 25,000 man-years of construction work; and $1.29 billion of increased federal and state tax revenues over the next 10 years.

These bonds help expanding companies by lowering the interest rates on their plant and equipment loans.

In addition to curbing specific abuses, Congress will require a public hearing and approval by elected governments prior to each bond issue. Though bonds issued in Massachusetts are subject to careful scrutiny by local and state officials, this is not practiced in some other parts of the country.

Perhaps the most important part of the IRB reforms, according to Patterson, will revoke an I.R.S. ruling prohibiting the issuance of bond pools sold on the public credit markets. Earlier this month MIFA announced a $25 million bond pool for smaller business expansions, caught by the sudden IRS policy shift last year, this first-in-the-nation pool will now be possible on an ongoing basis.

"We are moving forward now to raise significant expansion capital for smaller companies now that Congress has removed the sticky web of IRS restrictions," Patterson said. "The end result will be a big boost to industry and employment in Massachusetts."

The tax bill will also exempt research and development expenditures from current IRB spending limitations, which should aid Massachusetts high technology companies. The bill requires companies to depreciate their facilities on a straight-line basis, but using the new recovery periods allowed in last year's tax bill, and sets a sunset provision that ends IRBs on Dec. 31, 1986, unless Congress acts before then to continue the program.

Ensemble At Endicott

The Performing Arts Ensemble of Cambridge will give a performance of original choreography and live music at Endicott College on Friday, Sept. 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Endicott Auditorium, Hale Street, Beverly.

Currently part of the New England Foundation of the Arts Touring Program, the group is composed of eight dancers and four musicians. Since their formation in 1980 to promote collaboration among artists in different disciplines, they have performed largely in the New England area. A non-profit organization, the group is in residence at the Institute for Contemporary Dance, Central Square, Cambridge.

Andover's "Teen Power" Presents Plays With Message-For Peers

Teen Power is a group of teens sponsored by the Greater Lawrence Council for Children. The purpose of this group is to advocate for teenagers, initiate programs, and to deal with issues that affect teens. The group utilizes peer leadership and group decision making. Two plays written by members of Teen Power were presented at the West Parish Church last week. They were directed by Maria Menzi, the Community Representative of the Greater Lawrence Council for Children, and Susan Andrews, an intern with the program. Photos clockwise from top: In a scene from "Dave Drug's Hope" are Kristen Manies, 3 Alonesos Way, Pamela Andrews, 21 Burnham Road, Shauntel Flaig, 6 Wabanaki Way, and Sarah Perry, 239 River Road; Intern Susan Burnham listens to the audience reaction to the plays; Maria Menzi explains the objectives of Teen Power; Members of Teen Power discuss the audience's reaction to the play. Other members of Teen Power are: Liz Cox, Maura Powers, Jeannie McCord, and Lisa Horgan.

Hospice Seeks

Volunteers

The Hospice of Greater Lawrence is accepting applications for direct service volunteers for the fall training program. Persons willing to help families facing terminal illness by visiting, listening, being a caring friend, shopping or preparing an occasional meal should call the Hospice office in Lawrence.

Hospice seeks persons who have some day-time availability, can attend ten Tuesday afternoon training sessions beginning Sept. 28 and can commit themselves to serving as volunteers for one year.

Smokers' Liberation

Persons who want to stop smoking can register now for the next Smokers' Liberation series starting Thursday, Sept. 23, at Lawrence General Hospital, Lawrence.

The four-session program will meet at the hospital from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Thursdays and Tuesdays through Oct. 5.

The facilitator for the program will be Susan DuFour of Lawrence, a health educator at the hospital.

Higher Education

New England legislative, educational and business leaders have recommended a variety of proposals, including one based on the vision of a landmark 19th-century federal law which revolutionized higher education, to erase a human resources shortage that threatens the region's lead in knowledge-intensive industry.

At a two-day meeting of the New England Board of Higher Education (NEBHE) in Dedham, participants said new legislation was urgently needed to encourage math and science studies in the high schools and to improve the quality of instruction in mathematics and science, and to fill vacancies on engineering and other technology faculties of college and universities, which feed the high-technology work force throughout the region.

NEBHE was urged to join with the New England Legislative Caucus to become regional and national advocates of a modern-day version of the Morrill Act of 1862, which created the nation's land-grant universities and harnessed higher education in behalf of agricultural and economic development.

Under the New Morrill Act, federal and state government, in addition to private industry, would undertake a billion dollar a year commitment, supported by matching corporate funds, to benefit high education, particularly in high-technology areas.

Provisions of the law would specify that schools use the funds to purchase expensive state-of-the-art equipment, upgrade faculty salaries to make them more compatible with private industry and finance scholarships and fellowships to increase the number of technology graduates with advanced degrees.

Conference participants also called upon the New England states to form special task forces suited to the needs of each state and patterned after a blue ribbon commission being formed by Rhode Island

Governor J. Joseph Garrahy.

Headed by the president of the state's largest banking corporation, the Fleet Financial Group, the Rhode Island commission will identify areas by which education, government and industry can work together in behalf of economic development.

Frank Newman, president of the University of Rhode Island, said that for the first time in its history, New England is failing to attract people from other countries and other parts of the nation, and is losing some of its own people to other regions.

"Right now, even in this recession, many high-technology firms are being retarded in their general growth, or in new investments in their industries, because of a lack of critical human resources," said Ray Stata, president of Analog Deices In., Norwood, and a member of the board's higher education commission.

The size of the engineering work force largely determines the breadth and depth of product development, the rate of job creation and export growth in a globally competitive market, he said.

"It is very significant that Japan graduates three times more engineers than America on a per capita basis. Eventually, the sheer size and energy of its technical labor force will overwhelm other competitive considerations in the high-growth, technology-intensive market," Stata said.

can Frederick H. Tarr III of Rockport is unopposed for his party's nomination.

But by far, greatest interest has been focused on the state representative's race for the 17th Essex district. The nine candidates in the running have been visible throughout town and have conducted an upbeat and non-controversial campaign.

Running for the Democratic nomination are:

HARRIET AHOUSE, past president of four community boards who has served on eight boards over the last ten years. Her experience includes four years at the State House working for both Democratic and Republican legislative leaders;

VINCENT P. DAVEY, parent, teacher, coach, accounts executive with knowledge of the financial and economic communities, veteran and active Democrat involved in the candidacies of Adlai E. Stevenson, John F. and Edward M. Kennedy, James M. Shannon and others;

NICHOLAS J. KOLOFQLES, concerned about high taxes and automobile insurance costs, gas and electric fuel adjustment charges and pensions for retired railroad workers. He would freeze auto insurance rate increases for 1983;

BRIAN BRESNAHAN, who worked three years as a legislative assistant and research analyst, where he lobbied for additional funding for higher education and to raise the drinking age. He is a life-long local resident, who has been active in the community;

SUE TUCKER, who served local government for eight years on commissions and committees, is a former legislative assistant, president of the Andover League of Women Voters and vice-president of the Massachusetts League;

JOHN R. FOX, a graduate of Suffolk University Law School, who has stressed issues such as a possible 3-5 cent cigarette tax, tax exemptions and legal services for the elderly, education, and has received the backing of several labor leaders;

GERRY GRASSO, Andover school teacher for 22 years, coach for 25 years, stresses his hard work, is an active organizer of charities, reunions, running clubs, community involvement in the Heart Fund, elderly affairs;

Running in the Republican primary are:

KIMBERLY CRONIN, concerned about public safety and strengthening anti-crime laws, meeting elderly needs such as housing, pensions, retirement plans, fuel assistance, meals and transportation;

WILLIAM E. MELAHN, who opposes a six percent sales tax on automotive repairs and personal services, is an attorney, chairman of the Merrimack Valley Republican Committee 1980-82, coordinator 1980 presidential campaign.

In other local contests, Stephen J.

O'Leary of North Reading is the only Democrat running for state senator, First Essex and Middlesex District (town precincts 6.7.8). Incumbent Robert C. Buell of Boxford is running unopposed in the Republican race.

U.S. Rep. James M. Shannon of Lawrence is without challenge for Democratic renomination to his seat.

Louise Day Hart, an Andover resident is seeking the Republican nomination to oppose Shannon as a sticker candidate.

Kevin M. Burke is unopposed in his bid for Democratic renomination for district attorney, Eastern District.

Andover Atty. Mario Lucchesi is seeking the Republican nomination for District Attorney as a sticker candidate.

Openings At Nazareth

Openings in the freshman class at Our Lady of Nazareth Academy still exist at this writing. As the enrollment has increased in recent years, the election process has become more stringent. This year only 87 girls out of approximately 150 who applied were accepted and enrolled for September classes. Because applicants must meet such high standards, about ten places remain for academically qualified girls who demonstrate genuine interest in a Catholic education at Nazareth.

Our Lady of Nazareth Academy is a four-year preparatory school for girls founded by the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth in 1947. Located on 30 wooded acres on the former Winship estate in Wakefield, the academy serves about 300 students from more than 35 cities and towns.

Although Nazareth considers academics its primary concern, it offers a variety of extra-curricular activities and sports including basketball, cheerleading, choral, drama and volleyball. An active parents guild is another important feature of the school.

For more information about the application process, contact the school's main office as soon as possible.

etcetera inc.—Creative Enrichment Program
Chris Dunn, Melissa Guerrero and Kevin Smith

It's back-to-school time once again and back to etcetera, too, for nine "veterans" of the after-school enrichment program that first opened on Feb. 4, 1980. The program was organized in response to an expressed need of working parents for a creative, caring environment for their elementary school children at the end of the school day. etcetera director, Virginia Maxfield, and staff, Eleanor Campbell, Sandra Regan and Chris Stone, will welcome three new children to the afterschool program and again, in response to an expressed need, are pleased to announce the opening of an extended afternoon kindergarten session from 12 p.m. to 3 p.m.

The goals and philosophy of the new program will be the same as those of the old. The director describes etcetera as a "bridge building service" for families; one that creatively spans the hours between school closing and the end of the parents' work day in an environment very much like home. It follows the school calendar exactly and is open until 5:30 p.m. every school day. Parents are asked to make a commitment to etcetera for the entire school year and for a period of at least three days per week. There is a regular enrichment program with emphasis on life skills, exploration of our natural world and healthful recreational activities.

The kindergarten program will be staffed by co-teachers Carolyn Shea and Karen D'Onofrio and teaching assistant Judy Young.

These three mothers are all qualified elementary school teachers who, through the exchange of ideas and talents, have planned an exciting kindergarten year.

The kindergarten program is full; however, there are a limited number of openings in the after-school program, 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. If you would like more information about etcetera, please telephone Virginia Maxfield at 470-0640.

Merrimack Citgo—The New Gas Station In Town

Are you looking for a gas station that's conveniently located, competitively priced, with quick and friendly service? That's what you'll find at Merrimack Citgo on Route 125 in North Andover.

Owner Jeff Watson will tell you, "We're the new gas station in town. I just bought Merrimack Citgo and I'm looking to earn your business... gas, repairs, tires and auto accessories. All my life I've been in the auto service business in this area. I'd like to show you my expertise and concern for you, the customer, and your car."

In today's economy who can not afford to save some money whenever possible? A smart consumer will always check the prices before buying, and when you do, you'll consider Merrimack Citgo. Jeff will make sure that your windshield is washed with each and every purchase. Where else do you find service like that?

Merrimack Citgo can handle all your automotive needs. Stop by and have the mechanics diagnose and repair your automobile. They can eliminate the problems that are giving you difficulty and perhaps causing poor engine performance or low fuel efficiency. Let them check your battery, brakes, heating and cooling system, alignments, and more. Jeff's motto is "If it's broken, we can fix it!" Merrimack Citgo also offers towing and road service for those unexpected problems that unfortunately might arise.

So, next time you're looking for friendly service and low, low prices, come to Merrimack Citgo. It's conveniently located on Route 125 at Hillside Road (next to Trombley Motor Coach) in North Andover. Open from 6:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily, Saturdays until 6. For appointments or information, call 685-9888.

Democrat John F. Markey of North Andover, Fifth District Councillor, is unopposed for renomination. Peter A. Davekos of Marblehead is unopposed in the Republican race.

James Dennis Leary of Peabody has no Democratic challenger for his position of clerk of courts, Essex County. No Republicans are running.

Present Register of Deeds, Essex County, Thomas J. Burke of Lawrence, a Democrat, is unopposed. There are no Republicans in the race.

Andover voters will also cast their ballots Tuesday in the hotly contested Democratic race for governor between incumbent Gov. Edward J. King and former Gov. Michael S. Dukakis. The rematch of four years ago has received national attention.

The Republican primary features John R. Lakian, caught up in campaign controversy, Andrew H. Card Jr., who has called for Lakian's withdrawal and John W. Sears, who has been ahead in the polls.

Five Democrats are running for lieutenant governor. They are John F. Kerry, former first assistant district attorney; Evelyn Murphy, former secretary of environmental affairs; state Rep. Lou Nickinello; former state rep. Lois G. Pines; state Sen. Samuel Rotondi. Leon J. Lombardi is running uncontested for the Republican nomination.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is running unopposed for Democratic renomination. Ray Shamie is unopposed in his bid for Republican nomination.

Other offices on the primary ballot include attorney general, state secretary, treasurer and auditor. The incumbents are all Democrats and are running unopposed for renomination. They are Francis X. Belotti, atty. general; Michael Joseph Connolly, secretary of state; Robert Q. Crane, state treasurer; John J. Finnegan, state auditor.

There is one Republican in each of those races running unopposed for their party's nomination. They are Richard L. Wainwright of Brockton, atty. general; Jody DeRoma Dow of Brookline, state secretary; Mary J. LeClair of Mashpee, state treasurer; Michael S. Robertson of Berkeley, state auditor.

Lay Ministry Seminary In Fourth Year

The fourth year of the Andover Lay Ministry Seminary (ALMS), a program of college and seminary courses for lay people, opens Wednesday, Sept. 22, at 7:30 p.m. A ministry of South Church, ALMS is designed to equip people in churches for lay ministry through a practical knowledge of the Scriptures, development of a holy life and discovery of God-given gifts and talents.

"Parenting the Adolescent, an eight-week course led by Dr. Bill Newman, family counselor, will deal with better communication, problem solving techniques and other issues involved in aising teenagers in today's world. Couples are encouraged to attend at a reduced rate.

Future ALMS courses include "Women in the Bible" beginning Jan. 5, led by Rev. Marcia Dorey, associate minister of Christ Church United in Lowell, and a five-week course in "Cults" beginning April 16.

ALMS is a ministry offered to anyone wishing to participate. There is a registration fee, payable at the first session; textbooks are extra. Register by calling the church office or at the first class.

REALTOR

EMOTIONS CAN HURT

One of the greatest risks involved when an owner tries to sell his own home can be summed up in one word: Emotions. "Can one become emotional about a home?" you may ask. The answer is a definite: "Yes!"

If you've lived in that home for ten, fifteen, or more years, you've got a lot of memories invested in it. You remember how your children grew up there ... birthday parties ... graduation parties ... family gatherings ... cookouts. That home has actually become part of you. This is the way it should be, and no one can take those memories away. In trying to sell your home privately, this emotional involvement may be a detriment. You resent criticism, there may be personality conflicts, or you may "understand" because you "like" the buyer.

We, on the other hand, can approach your home objectively, dealing with hard facts when it comes to the selling effort. In the practical world of real estate that's what really counts. We don't let emotions get in the way of getting you the best price and the quickest sale. After all, that's the reason so many satisfied customers come to us!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Pynchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Incident At Park An Isolated Case Police Chief Tells Board

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Last week's homicide near Central Park was an isolated incident that could have happened anywhere in Andover, the police chief indicated this week, and was not a sign of problems at the park.

Neither crime nor vandalism have been "a big problem" at the park for the past two years, Police Chief James Johnson told the selectmen Tuesday night.

An Andover man, Kenneth Sheehan, 30, has been charged with hitting two friends with a car last week near East Junior High, killing Methuen resident Arthur Kobylarz, 28, allegedly after arguing over a card game at the park.

"In 1977, '78, '79, we had problems there," Chief Johnson said. "But since May 1, 1980, we've had few complaints. The crowds of teenagers are gone."

Johnson said neighbors in the area have called the police department complaining about loitering and vandalism at the park 34 times during the past two years; this year, three arrests have been made related to activities at the park.

The Kobylarz killing could have happened anywhere downtown, Johnson told the board — "right out here in the Town Hall parking lot or on Main Street" — and just happened to occur near Central Park and East Junior High School.

Two police cruisers, a motorcycle and a detective's car routinely include the park in their nightly patrols, the chief said.

He added that if the police tried to completely eliminate hanging out at the park, the loiterers would only move elsewhere — where they might create larger problems. "As long as we can control them, I don't think we should move them," Johnson said.

Johnson told the selectmen that street lights installed at the park several years ago by a town meeting vote are not working, and have not been lit for about five years. The lights were vandalized shortly after they were turned on, he said.

The bandstand in the park has also been the object of repeated vandalism and is reportedly "deteriorating again," the chief added.

The selectmen asked the town manager to look into that situation and find out if the lights could be turned on again.

According to the police chief, vandalism and loitering at Recreation Park are also well under control this year.
